Natural Burial Landscape Practice And Experience:

Natural Burial Andy Clayden, Trish Green, Jenny Hockey, Mark Powell, 2014-07-17 This book unravels the many different experiences meanings and realities of natural burial Twenty years after the first natural burial ground opened there is an opportunity to reflect on how a concept for a very different approach to caring for our dead has become a reality new providers new landscapes and a hybrid of new and traditional rituals In this short time the natural burial movement has flourished In the UK there are more than 200 sites and the concept has travelled to North America Holland Australia New Zealand and Japan This survey of natural burials draws on interviews with those involved in the natural burial process including burial ground managers celebrants priests bereaved family funeral directors providing a variety of viewpoints on the concept as a philosophy and landscape practice Site surveys design plans and case studies illustrate the challenges involved in creating a natural burial site and a key longitudinal case study of a single site investigates the evolving nature of the practice Natural Burial is the first book on this subject to bring together all the groups and individuals involved in the practice explaining the facts behind this type of burial and exploring a topic which is attracting significant media interest and an upsurge of sites internationally

Funerary Practices in England and Wales Julie Rugg, Brian Parsons, 2018-10-30 This book is an essential reference resource for policy makers practitioners and academics with an interest in any aspect of funerary practice in England and Wales

Mors Britannica Douglas J. Davies, 2015-11-12 A people's lifestyle is one thing their death style another The proximity or distance between such styles says much about a society not least in Britain today Mors Britannica takes up this style issue in a society where cultural changes involve distinctions between traditional religion secularisation and emergent forms of spirituality all of which involve emotions where fear longing and a sense of loss rise in waves when death marks the root embodiment of our humanity These world orientations evident in older and newer ritual practices engage death in the hope and desire that love relationships community and human identity be not rendered meaningless Yet both emotions and ritual have an uneasiness to them because death is a slippery topic as the twenty first century gets under way in Britain In this work Douglas J Davies draws from a largely anthropological sociological perspective with consideration of history literature philosophy psychology and theology to provide a window into British life and insights into the foundation links between individuals and society across the spectrum of traditionally religious views through to humanist and secular alternatives He considers memorial sites from churchyards to roadside memorials forms of corporeal disposal from cremation to composting and death rites in a range of religious and secular traditions

Is the Cemetery Dead? David Charles Sloane, 2018-04-25 Examines our evolving mourning rituals specifically in relationship to cemeteries a levelheaded report on the death care industry Los Angeles Review of Books In modern society we have professionalized our care for the dying and deceased in hospitals and hospices churches and funeral homes cemeteries and mausoleums to aid dazed and disoriented mourners But these formal institutions can be alienating and cold leaving people craving a more humane mourning and burial process The burial treatment itself has come to be seen as wasteful and harmful marked by chemicals plush caskets and manicured greens Today s bereaved are therefore increasingly turning away from the old ways of death and searching for a more personalized environmentally responsible and ethical means of grief Is the Cemetery Dead gets to the heart of the tragedy of death chronicling how Americans are inventing new or adapting old traditions burial places and memorials In illustrative prose David Charles Sloane shows how people are taking control of their grief by bringing their relatives home to die interring them in natural burial grounds mourning them online or memorializing them streetside with a shrine ghost bike or RIP mural Today s mourners are increasingly breaking free of conventions to better embrace the person they want to remember As Sloane shows these changes threaten the future of the cemetery causing cemeteries to seek to become more responsive institutions A trained historian Sloane is also descendent from multiple generations of cemetery managers and he grew up in Syracuse s Oakwood Cemetery Enriched by these experiences as well as his personal struggles with overwhelming grief Sloane presents a remarkable and accessible tour of our new American way of death

The Future of the Corpse Karla Rothstein,Christina Staudt,2021-10-22 This book reviews the spectrum of death from when the living person turns to corpse until the person lives in the memory of mourners and its impact on the ecology of the socio cultural community and physical environment This book demonstrates that American society today is in a pivotal period for re imaging end of life care funerary services human disposition methods memorializing and mourning The editors and contributors outline the past present and future of death care rituals pointing to promising new practices and innovative projects that show how we can better integrate the dying and dead with the living and create positive change that supports sustainable stewardship of our environment Individual chapters describe prevailing practices and issues in different settings where people die and in postmortem rituals disposition and current ecologically and in urban areas spatially unsustainable methods law of human remains customs and trends among key stakeholders such as cemeteries and funeral directors and relevant technological advances The book culminates in a presentation of emerging sustainable disposition technologies and innovative designs for proposed public memorial projects that respond to shifting values beliefs and priorities among an increasingly diverse population

Leisure and Death Adam Kaul,Jonathan Skinner,2018-05-28 This anthropological study examines the relationship between leisure and death specifically how leisure practices are used to meditate upon and mediate life Considering travelers who seek enjoyment but encounter death and dying tourists who accidentally face their own mortality while vacationing those who intentionally seek out pleasure activities that pertain to mortality and risk and those who use everyday leisure practices like social media or dogwalking to cope with death Leisure and Death delves into one of the most provocative subsets of contemporary cultural anthropology These nuanced and well developed ethnographic case studies deal with different and distinct examples of the intertwining of leisure and death They challenge established conceptions of leisure and rethink the associations attached to the prospect of death Chapters testify to encounters with death on a personal and scholarly level exploring for example the Cliffs of Moher as not only one of the most popular tourist destinations in Ireland but one of the most well known suicide destinations as well and the estimated 30 million active posthumous Facebook profiles being repurposed through proxy users and transformed by continued engagement with the living From the respectful to the fascinated from the macabre to the morbid contributors consider how people deliberately or unexpectedly negotiate the borderlands of the living An engaging timely book that explores how spaces of death can be transformed into spaces of leisure Leisure and Death makes a significant contribution to the burgeoning interdisciplinary literature on leisure studies and dark tourism This book will appeal to students scholars and laypeople interested in tourism studies death studies cultural studies heritage studies anthropology sociology and marketing Contributors Kathleen M Adams Michael Arnold Jane Desmond Keith Egan Maribeth Erb James Fernandez Martin Gibbs Rachel Horner Brackett Shingo Iitaka Tamara Kohn Patrick Laviolette Ruth McManus James Meese Bjorn Nansen Stravoula Pipyrrou Hannah Rumble Cyril Schafer The Evolution of the British Funeral Industry in the 20th Century Brian Parsons, 2018-03-28 This book examines the shifts that have taken place in the funeral industry since 1900 focusing on the figure of the undertaker and exploring how organizational change and attempts to gain recognition as a professional service provider saw the role morph into that of funeral director Narratives of Parental Death, Dying and Bereavement

Caroline Pearce, Carol Komaromy, 2021-05-25 This collection shows what happens when facing the inevitable and sometimes expected death of a parent and how such an ordinary part of life as parental death might connect with the children left behind In many ways individual deaths are extraordinary and leave a unique legacy a kind of haunting The authors accounts seek to make sense of death through witnessing its enactment and recording its detail All the authors are experienced researchers in the field of death studies and their collective expertise encompasses ethnography psychology sociology and anthropology The individual descriptions of death and grief capture the everyday practicalities of managing death and dying including for example the difficulties of caring responsibilities and the realities of dealing with strained family relationships These accounts show the raw detail of death they are deeply personal observations framed within critical theories As established scholars and practitioners that have researched and worked in end of life and bereavement care the authors in this anthology offer a unique perspective on how identity is shaped by a close bereavement The book employs a strong editorial narrative that blends memoir with theoretical engagement and will be of interest to death studies scholars as well as practitioners involved in end of life care and bereavement care and anyone who has experienced the death of a parent

Family Life, Trauma and Loss in the Twentieth Century Carol Komaromy, Jenny Hockey, 2018-05-16 This book uses personal memoir to examine links between private trauma and the socio cultural approach to death and memory developed within Death Studies The authors two key Death Studies scholars tell the stories that constitute their family lives Each bears witness to the experiences of men who were either killed or traumatised during World War One and World War Two and shows the ongoing implications of these events for those left behind The book illustrates how the rich oral history and material culture legacy bequeathed by these wars raises issues for everyone alive today Belonging to a generation who grew up in the shadow of war Komaromy and Hockey ask how we can best convey unimaginable events to later generations and what practical moral and ethical demands this brings Family Life Trauma and Loss in the Twentieth Century will be of interest to students and scholars across a range of disciplines including Death Studies Military History Research Methods Family History the Sociology of the Family and Life Writing Death and Institutions Kate Woodthorpe, Helen Frisby, Bethan Michael-Fox, 2025-03-21 Institutions play a crucial role in shaping experiences of end of life care dying death body disposal and bereavement However there has been little holistic or multidisciplinary research in this area with studies typically focusing on individual settings such as hospitals and cemeteries or being confined to specific disciplines This interdisciplinary collection combines chapters on process place and the past to examine the relationships both within and between institutions institutionalization and death in international contexts Of broad appeal to students and academics in areas including social policy health sciences sociology psychology anthropology cultural studies history and the wider humanities this collection spans multiple disciplines to offer crucial insights into the end of life body disposal bereavement and mourning
