The nature park guide for Waza National Park (Cameroon) ,2025-09-26 The nature park guide for Fazaomalfakassa National Park (Togo) ,2025-09-26 The nature park guide for Cockscomb Basin Wildlife Sanctuary (Belize) ,2025-09-26 Civilizing Nature Bernhard Gissibl, Sabine Höhler, Patrick Kupper, 2012-11-01 National parks are one of the most important and successful institutions in global environmentalism Since their first designation in the United States in the 1860s and 1870s they have become a global phenomenon The development of these ecological and political systems cannot be understood as a simple reaction to mounting environmental problems nor can it be explained by the spread of environmental sensibilities Shifting the focus from the usual emphasis on national parks in the United States this volume adopts an historical and transnational perspective on the global geography of protected areas and its changes over time It focuses especially on the actors networks mechanisms arenas and institutions responsible for the global spread of the national park and the associated utilization and mobilization of asymmetrical relationships of power and knowledge contributing to scholarly discussions of globalization and the emergence of global environmental institutions and governance

Neotropical Birds of Prey David F Whitacre, 2013-03-01 Until recently surprisingly little has been known about the biology and behavior of tropical forest raptors including such basic aspects as diets breeding biology habitat requirements and population ecology information critical to the development of conservation efforts The Peregrine Fund conducted a significant eight year long research program on the raptor species including owls in Tikal National Park in Guatemala to learn more about Neotropical birds of prey Impressive and unprecedented in scale this pioneering research also involved the development of new methods for detecting enumerating and studying these magnificent but often elusive birds in their forest home Beautifully illustrated with photographs of previously little known species the resulting book is the most important single source for information on the lowland tropical forest raptor species found in Central America Neotropical Birds of Prey covers twenty specific species in depth including the Ornate Hawk Eagle the Barred Forest Falcon the Bat Falcon and the Mexican Wood Owl offering thorough synopses of all current knowledge regarding breeding biology and behavior diet habitat use and spatial needs Contributors to this landmark work also show how the populations fit together as a community with overlapping habitat and prey needs that can put them in competition with reptiles and mammalian carnivores as well yet differ from one another in their nesting or feeding behaviors and population dynamics The work s substantive original data offer interesting comparisons between tropical and temperate zone species and provide a basis for establishing conservation measures based on firsthand research Making available for the first time new data on the biology ecology behavior and conservation of the majestic owls and raptors of the New World tropics this book will appeal to a wide ornithological readership especially the many raptor enthusiasts around the world

Lost Worlds Bruce M. Beehler, 2008-10-01 Perhaps it is not possible to experience all the mysterious sounds the unfamiliar smells and the spectacular sights of a tropical rainforest without ever visiting one But this exhilarating and honest book comes wondrously close to taking the reader on such a journey Bruce M Beehler a widely traveled expert on birds and tropical ecology recounts fascinating details from twelve field trips he has taken to the tropics over the past three decades As a researcher he brings to life the exotic rainforests and the people who inhabit them as a conservationist he makes a plea for better ways of managing rainforests a resource that the world cannot do without Drawing on his experiences in Papua New Guinea India Madagascar Indonesia the Philippines Panama and the Ivory Coast Beehler describes the surprises both pleasant and unpleasant of doing science and conservation in the field He explains the role that rainforests play in the lives of indigenous peoples and the crucial importance of understanding local cultures customs and politics The author concludes with simple but tough solutions for maintaining rainforest health expressing fervent hope that his great grandchildren and others may one day also hear the rainforest whisper its secrets
