Diphoorn,2015-10-20 South Africa boasts the largest private security sector in the entire world reflecting deep anxieties about violence security and governance Twilight Policing is an ethnographic study of the daily policing practices of armed response officers a specific type of private security officer and their interactions with citizens and the state police in Durban South Africa This book shows how their policing practices simultaneously undermine and support the state resulting in actions that are neither public nor private but something in between something twilight Their performances of security are also punitive disciplinary and exclusionary and they work to reinforce post apartheid racial and economic inequalities Ultimately Twilight Policing helps to illuminate how citizens survive volatile conditions and to whom they assign the authority to guide them in the process Essays on the Evolution of the Post-Apartheid State Mcebisi Ndletyana,2015-02-01 This book critically examines the challenges successes and failures of the post 1994 South African state against the humane values enshrined in its constitution nonracial democracy and respect for all generations of human rights civil political social economic resources and the environment and gender and communication The book sheds light on the difficulties faced by the State when trying to bring together a diverse society comprised of traditional South African Western based and other African immigrant cultures into a cohesive nation with a common South African identity The views of the essays may not be entirely consistent and the issues they raise may be contentious This merely affirms the truism that the State is a contested terrain The aim of this book is to deepen the search for an understanding of the theory of the State as it applies to a transforming society such as ours and to trudge the dividing line between theory and practice so they can feed into each other in a progressive spiral towards the desired end state Policing Diversity Andrew Faull,2008 The shift from apartheid to a constitutional democracy in South Africa brought with it a plethora of questions concerning ideas of nationhood citizenship and organisational transformation Integrally caught up in the revolution the South African Police Service SAPS faced transformative challenges on scales far larger than most other organisations in the country From being the strong arm of the oppressive elite it has had to restructure and rearticulate its function while simultaneously attempting to maintain law and order Like many other corporations and organisations the SAPS has engaged in interventions aimed at aiding the fluidity of this process Andrew Faull s thesis is an analysis of one such intervention focusing on SAPS members at one particular station It attempts to ascertain the extent to which members are changing as a result of particular diversity workshops conducted in a region of the Western Cape This work brings together an under examined intersection of diversity and police cultural theory in South Africa emphasizing the need for greater attention to these issues The project of Student Publications has been designed by SAVUSA NiZA and SANPAD to try and stimulate publication in the Netherlands of excellent South African MA theses on relevant Southern African themes Page 4 of cover Neoliberal Apartheid Andy Clarno,2017-03-07 In recent years as peace between Israelis and Palestinians has remained cruelly elusive scholars and activists have increasingly turned to South African history and politics to make sense of the situation In the early 1990s both South Africa and Israel began negotiating with their colonized populations South Africans saw results the state was democratized and black South Africans gained formal legal equality Palestinians on the other hand won neither freedom nor equality and today Israel remains a settler colonial state Despite these different outcomes the transitions of the last twenty years have produced surprisingly similar socioeconomic changes in both regions growing inequality racialized poverty and advanced strategies for securing the powerful and policing the racialized poor Neoliberal Apartheid explores this paradox through an analysis of de colonization and neoliberal racial capitalism After a decade of research in the Johannesburg and Jerusalem regions Andy Clarno presents here a detailed ethnographic study of the precariousness of the poor in Alexandra township the dynamics of colonization and enclosure in Bethlehem the growth of fortress suburbs and private security in Johannesburg and the regime of security coordination between the Israeli military and the Palestinian Authority in the West Bank The first comparative study of the changes in these two areas since the early 1990s the book addresses the limitations of liberation in South Africa highlights the impact of neoliberal restructuring in Palestine and argues that a new form of neoliberal apartheid has emerged in both contexts
