Women and Gender in Medieval Europe Margaret Schaus, 2006 Publisher description

Her Story Barbara J. MacHaffie, 2006 The Bible has been written translated and interpreted for centuries by men in cultures that were patriarchal In patriarchy women are subordinated within the gradations of a hierarchical society Material on women therefore has often been misinterpreted or overlooked In some instances generic nouns and pronouns in the original languages have been translated into English as masculine words A careful textual study must be made using all the available tools of biblical scholarship An accurate understanding of the meaning of words must be sought Also readers must try to discern the intentions of the author and try to gain a knowledge of the historical and social background of the biblical material The demands of God must be distinguished from the demands of a particular culture The bible as a whole makes it clear that God's people are to bring justice and wholeness to all human beings the injunctions that degrade women do not provide principles valid for every age of Christianity but instead reflect cultural situations in which men related to women through dominance The standard for the Christian community today should be the glimmers of female dignity and leadership that shine through the pages of the Bible

Sensory Reflections Fiona Griffiths, Kathryn Starkey, 2018-10-22 This volume draws on emerging scholarship at the intersection of two already vibrant fields medieval material culture and medieval sensory experience The rich potential of medieval matter most obviously manuscripts and visual imagery but also liturgical objects coins textiles architecture graves etc to complement and even transcend purely textual sources is by now well established in medieval scholarship across the disciplines So too attention to medieval sensory experiences most prominently emotion has transformed our understanding of medieval religious life and spirituality violence power and authority friendship and constructions of both the self and the other Our purpose in this volume is to draw the two approaches together plumbing medieval material sources for traces of sensory experience above all ephemeral and physical experiences that unlike emotion are rarely fully described or articulated in texts

Thousands and Thousands of Lovers Anna Harrison, 2022-08-15 Thousands and Thousands of Lovers examines the spiritual significance of community to the Cistercian nuns of Helfta a concern that lies at the heart of the monastery s literature Focusing on a woefully understudied resource and the largest body of female authored writings in the thirteenth century this book offers insight into the religious preoccupations of a theologically expert and intellectually vibrant cloister to reveal a subtle interplay between communal practice and private piety other directed attention and inward religious impulse It considers the nuns attitudes toward community among themselves and with their household members as well as with souls in purgatory and the saints

Engendering Curriculum History Petra Hendry, 2011-05-20 How can curriculum history be re envisioned from a feminist poststructuralist perspective Engendering Curriculum History disrupts dominant notions of history as linear as inevitable progress and as embedded in the individual This conversation requires a history that seeks re memberance not representation reflexivity not linearity and responsibility not truth Rejecting a compensatory approach to rewriting history which leaves dominant historical categories and periodization intact Hendry examines how the narrative structures of curriculum histories are implicated in the construction of gendered subjects Five central chapters take up a particular discourse wisdom the body colonization progressivism and pragmatism to excavate the subject identities made possible across time and space Curriculum history is understood as an emergent not a finished process as an unending dialogue that creates spaces for conversation in which multiple conflicting paradoxical and contradictory interpretations can be generated as a means to stimulate more questions not grand narratives
