Prison Staff Ethics Scenarios:

Prison Officers Helen Arnold, Matthew Maycock, Rosemary Ricciardelli, 2023-12-12 This edited collection brings together academics lawyers civil servants and researchers working in the human rights NGO sector to explore the work and role of prison officers around the world Each chapter offers a distinctive perspective on the work of prison officers within localised socio economic and criminal justice contexts to provide a unique overview and insight into the realities and complexities of the role through accessible scholarly interpretations of their work The aim of the book is to advance knowledge and understanding of the crucial role that prison officers occupy within carceral systems The collection has widespread applicability with relevance beyond academia into criminal justice practice and policy internationally Chapter 3 is available open access under a Creative Commons Attribution 4.0 International License via link springer.com Prison Stories Jennifer Schlosser, 2020-12-10 This book looks deeply at women researchers personal stories struggles and successes within the context of conducting research in the male dominated sphere of prison studies Their insights provide an analytical resource from which readers can better understand the context of doing prison research and the theoretical and methodological challenges that come with it Their autoethnographic stories shed light on the unique issues faced by women prison researchers and provide a roadmap for understanding the novel strategies methodological landmines and epistemological challenges for those who will come after them Their experiences as women investigators are couched in a distinct set of challenges This book is intended to highlight those researchers challenges and also to celebrate their successes

Adventures in the Lives of Others: Ethical Dilemmas in Factual Filmmaking James Quinn, 2015-09-21 Putting readers into the shoes of film and TV professionals Adventures in the Lives of Others is a gripping insider's account of ethics problem solving and decision making at the cutting edge of documentaries and factual television Both accessible and authoritative the book brings together a range of intimate candid accounts of the struggles involved in making documentary film and television from Grey Gardens and Hoop Dreams to Man on Wire Super Size Me and Benefits Street Contributors include legends of the documentary world eminent filmmakers at the top of their game emerging directors and producers and some of the world's most powerful and respected executives In specially commissioned pieces they explore the ethical dilemmas involved in uncovering secrets and breaking taboos accessing closed and dangerous worlds fighting injustice filming raw sex and violence documenting acts of evil and the many challenges of turning real life into compelling entertainment Ethical Dilemmas in International Criminological Research Michael Adorjan, Rosemary Ricciardelli, 2023-03-31 Building on the editors previous publication Engaging with Ethics in International Criminological Research this new book brings together a fresh collection of leading international scholars tackling ethical dilemmas in criminological research Contributors address how they have experienced and addressed ethical issues in their research and how they have balanced the benefits and harms of doing such research for both the researcher and the researched Ethical

Dilemmas in International Criminological Research draws on various issues across a range of jurisdictions and political and social contexts including cybercrime and transgressive online actions state and police responses to crime the war on drugs working with traumatised participants in criminological research punishment and prison and sex sexualities and gender Moreover this collection aims to offer a truly international perspective including insights from research projects in the Global South This book is essential reading for junior scholars just starting out with original research as well as more seasoned researchers looking to gain insights into the challenges of criminological research in other cultural contexts It is also instructive reading for students taking courses in criminological and social research methods

Inside Stories Kathleen B. deMarrais, 2012-12-06 Although articles reporting research studies are helpful in acquainting students with methodological approaches they often make the process look so straightforward clean and effortless It is rare to find an article that tells the real story behind the finished product By having real researchers tell their own stories of mucking around with methodological and ethical issues in qualitative research we get a more realistic human story of the process This is a collection of such stories Authors were asked to describe their own experiences with methodological and ethical struggles as they engaged in their work Each of the essays offers insight into the research approach used as well as particular issues which became apparent during the research process Key issues raised by the authors include early learnings gaining entry overlapping conflicting roles and the boundaries of these roles differential power relationships who tells the story and whose story is told ethical concerns related to confidentiality and the influence of a researcher's particular philosophy or theoretical framework on his or her research Throughout the book we see scholars whose personal stories or autobiographies intersect closely with their research projects deMarrais introduces a unique framework to help students gain an overview of qualitative research methods and the underpinnings and processes in these approaches This framework is centered on the ways we understand phenomena using qualitative research approaches that engage archival knowledge narrative knowledge or observational knowledge
