Rice Chips Technopreneurship And Innovation In Asia:

Rice & Chips Dennis Posadas,2007 Greenergized Dennis Posadas,2017-09-08 Renewable energy versus fossil fuels the debate rages on worldwide At stake is nothing less than the protection of our planet from the ravages of climate change But the costs involved in making the switch to clean energy are daunting How do we pay for solar and wind energy Do we scrap all our gasoline driven autos How do we move forward Although the importance of this topic is hard to overstate it nevertheless consistently fails to engage at the level that it so patently needs to This is what has led technology expert and seasoned commentator Dennis Posadas to approach the issues in a new and intriguing way Posadas understands that we respond best to narratives and that is why he has written what he describes as a green thinking fable In this fable we meet Daniel a young graduate of the fictional Oriental College who is thrust into a debate between Jos an oil man and Professor Ruiz an advocate of clean energy We follow the lines of argument as Daniel s awareness increases and he experiences a paradigm shift in his thinking We see how his short term outlook focusing on the cost of renewable energy evolves into long term thinking about the cost of not making the shift to renewables Posadas s business fable puts the issues in front of the general reader in an engaging and digestible way It covers concepts such as solar wind electric vehicles waste to energy feed in tariffs carbon tax intermittent sources cost of fossil fuels health impact of fossil fuel use energy efficiency and other relevant topics necessary for understanding this debate The story and characters may be fictional but the situations and the technology discussions are based on current facts Decide for yourself where you stand on the renewables versus fossil fuels debate and discuss this story with your friends and colleagues Greenergized is a much needed route into the issues surrounding the most serious debate our generation faces And it pulls off the brilliant trick of being highly readable at the same time Globalisation and Tertiary Education in the Asia-Pacific Christopher Charles Findlay,William G.

Tierney,2010 The rapid development and adoption of technology along with open economies has created an integrated global economy The globalisation process has brought with it significant changes in all areas of life including tertiary education This book outlines the features of the new wave of globalisation and draws out specific trends and challenges associated with this new wave for universities and policy makers 國際化與亞太地區的高等教育,2010-11 East Asian Executive Reports ,1999

Rice Bowl & Chips Dennis Posadas,2005 Rice Bowl Chips explains how Asian countries are using the Silicon Valley model to develop technology startups Author Dennis Posadas enumerates the unwritten rules of innovation that have worked in Silicon Valley since the 1930 s based on the works of scholars and other seminal works on technology entrepreneurship Using these concepts as a benchmark Mr Posadas points out similarities and differences between Silicon Valley and Asian countries such as China Taiwan Singapore and Korea He discusses concepts like proximity and creative destruction intellectual property the importance of universities publications and patents and the role of stock markets in encouraging venture capital Rice Bowl Chips tackles the research capabilities and venture capital infrastructure of the major Asian countries The book as a whole gives the reader a holistic picture of Asian innovation at large At the end of the book Mr Posadas suggests how Asian countries can use the Silicon Valley model in ways different from how the United States and other developed countries use it Rice Bowl Chips will be of particular interest to researchers innovators venture capitalists policy makers and those interested in Asian technology entrepreneurship Tiger Technology John Alwyn Mathews,Tong-söng Cho,2000-01 The creation of high technology industries in East Asia such as the semiconductor industry has been achieved in the face of enormous obstacles The countries concerned such as Korea Taiwan Singapore and Malaysia industrialized through labor intensive low cost industries But knowledge intensive industries such as semiconductors are much more demanding The book develops a plausible account of this industrial transformation based on the central notion of technology leverage and the distinctive institutions established to facilitate the process It concludes that management of technology diffusion is as important a form of wealth creation as management of innovation Complexity and Internationalisation of Innovation Dieter Ernst,UNCTAD.,2005 Modern Rice Technology and Income Distribution in Asia Cristina C. David,Keijiro Otsuka,1994 Technopreneurship Development in Southeast Asia and Switzerland Minh Tam Do,2017
