Museum Guide Berlin Claudia Stein:

Museum Guide Berlin 2015 Claudia Stein, 2015-07-29 Did you know that the athletes village of the 1936 Olympic Games can still be visited Or that an abandoned bunker hosts today one of the most fascinating private art collections There are more than 170 exciting museums venues memorials and places with museum philosophy Sorted by district each place is listed with contact information opening hours entrance fee and a brief description what the exhibition is about A Cultural History of Medicine in the Age of Enlightenment Lisa Smith, 2023-02-09 The Enlightenment as concept and time period was haunted by ambiguities about the relationships between mind and body humans and the natural world and reason and imagination The 18th century was inherently contradictory particularly when it came to ideas about medicine and the body The growing optimism that medicine and science could control nature and disease was counterbalanced by the hierarchies of gender race and class being fixed on the body Enlightenment ideals emphasized rationalism and expertise but they existed alongside religious belief and everyday authority Focusing on Western Europe this volume examines disability and suffering emotional and physical sensations supernatural phenomena and scepticism medical authority and expertise biologization and power and bodily and environmental regulation Volume contributors have used a range of cultural history methodologies from material history to discourse analysis to examine the Enlightenment's tensions The book's chapters centre on topics Environment Food Disease Animals Objects Experiences Mind Brain and Authority that have encouraged contributors to reframe their assumptions about the history of medicine and the Enlightenment Civic Medicine J. Andrew Mendelsohn, Annemarie Kinzelbach, Ruth Schilling, 2019-07-30 Communities great and small across Europe for eight centuries have contracted with doctors Physicians provided citizen care helped govern and often led in public life Civic Medicine stakes out this timely subject by focusing on its golden age when cities rivaled territorial states in local and global Europe and when civic doctors were central to the rise of shared organized written information about the human and natural world This opens the prospect of a long history of knowledge and action shaped more by community and responsibility than market or state exchange or power Before Photography Kirsten Belkum, Vance Byrd, John D. Benjamin, 2021-03-08 Recent years have seen a wealth of new scholarship on the history of photography cinema digital media and video games yet less attention has been devoted to earlier forms of visual culture The nineteenth century witnessed a dramatic proliferation of new technologies devices and print processes which provided growing audiences with access to more visual material than ever before This volume brings together the best aspects of interdisciplinary scholarship to enhance our understanding of the production dissemination and consumption of visual media prior to the predominance of photographic reproduction By setting these examples against the backdrop of demographic educational political commercial scientific and industrial shifts in Central Europe these essays reveal the diverse ways that innovation in visual culture affected literature philosophy journalism the history of perception exhibition culture and the representation of nature and human life in both print and material culture in local national transnational and global contexts Art, Science, and Witchcraft in Early Modern Holland Claudia Swan, 2005-06-08 Publisher Description The Helsinki School Timothy Persons, Katrin Hiller von Gaertringen, Janne Gallen-Kallela-Sirén, Taideteollinen korkeakoulu, 2009 Text by Timothy Persons Katrin Hiller Absence and Difficult Knowledge in Contemporary Art Museums Margaret Tali, 2017-12-22 This book analyzes practices of collecting in European art museums from 1989 to the present arguing that museums actualize absence both consciously and unconsciously while misrepresentation is an outcome of the absent perspectives and voices of minority community members which are rarely considered in relation to contemporary art Difficult knowledge is proposed as a way of dealing with absence productively Drawing on social art history museology postcolonial theory and memory studies Margaret Tali analyzes the collections of four modern and contemporary art museums across Europe the Hamburger Bahnhof in Berlin the Ludwig Museum of Contemporary Art in Budapest the Kiasma Museum in Helsinki and the Kumu Museum in Tallinn The Sword Lisa Deutscher, Mirjam Kaiser, Sixt Wetzler, 2019 A multidisciplinary overview of current research into the enduringly fascinating martial artefact which is the sword The sword is the most iconic of all weapons Throughout history it has connected various sometimes conflicting dimensions of human culture physical combat and representation of political power definition of gender roles and refinement of body techniques evolution of craftsmanship and mythological symbolism The articles collected here explore these dimensions from a variety of disciplines among them archaeology medieval history museum conservation and linguistics They cover topics from the production and combat use of Bronze Age swords via medieval fencing culture to the employment of the sword in modern military They question traditional sword typologies and wide spread theories about sword making discuss medieval sword terminology and the use of swords as royal insignia and describe the scientific methods for approaching original finds Arising from an international conference held at Deutsches Klingmuseum Solingen the German Blade Museum the volume provides fresh insights into the forms the sword can take and the thoughts it inspires LISA DEUTSCHER and MIRJAM E KAISER work in prehistoric archaeology specialising in Late Bronze Age swords respectively SIXT WETZLER is the deputy director of the German Blade Museum his research focuses on the history of edged weapons and their use Contributors Matthias Johannes Bauer Holger Becker Jan Heinrich Bunnefeld Rachel J Crellin Vincenzo D Ercole Andrea Dolfini Raphael Hermann Daniel Jaquet Robert W Jones Ulrich Lehmann Claus Lipka Stefan Maeder Michael Mattner Florian Messner Nicole M Ilk Ingo Petri Stefan Roth Fabrizio Savi Ulrike Tchterle Iason Eleftherios Tzouriadis Marion Uckelmann Henry Yallop Body Modern Michael Sappol, 2017-04-11 A poster first printed in Germany in 1926 depicts the human body as a factory populated by tiny workers doing industrial tasks Devised by Fritz Kahn 1888-1968 a German Jewish physician and popular science writer Der Mensch als Industriepalast or Man as Industrial Palace achieved international fame and was reprinted in various languages and versions all over the world It was a new kind of image an illustration that was conceptual and scientific a visual explanation of how things work and Kahn built a career of this new genre In collaboration with a stable of artists only some of whom were credited Kahn created thousands of images that were metaphorical allusive and self consciously modern using an eclectic grab bag of schools and styles Dada Art Deco photomontage Art Nouveau Bauhaus functionalism and commercial illustration In Body Modern Michael Sappol offers the first in depth critical study of Fritz Kahn and his visual rhetoric Kahn was an impresario of the modern who catered to readers who were hungry for products and concepts that could help them acquire and perform an overdetermined modern identity He and his artists created playful new visual tropes and genres that used striking metaphors to scientifically explain the life of Man This rich and largely obscure corpus of images was a technology of the self that naturalized the modern and its technologies by situating them inside the human body The scope of Kahn s project was vast entirely new kinds of visual explanation and so was his influence Today his legacy can be seen in textbooks magazines posters public health pamphlets educational websites and Hollywood movies But Sappol concludes Kahn s illustrations also pose profound and unsettling epistemological questions about the construction and performance of the self Lavishly illustrated with more than 100 images Body Modern imaginatively explores the relationship between conceptual image image production and embodied experience Museums in the German Art World James J. Sheehan, 2000-10-26 Combining the history of ideas institutions and architecture this study shows how the museum both reflected and shaped the place of art in German culture from the late eighteenth century to the early twentieth century On a broader level it illuminates the origin and character of the museum s central role in modern culture James Sheehan begins by describing the establishment of the first public galleries during the last decades of Germany s old regime He then examines the revolutionary upheaval that swept Germany between 1789 and 1815 arguing that the first great German museums reflected the nation s revolutionary aspirations By the mid nineteenth century the climate had changed museums constructed in this period affirmed historical continuities and celebrated political accomplishments During the next several years however Germans became disillusioned with conventional definitions of art and lost interest in monumental museums By the turn of the century the museum had become a site for the political and cultural controversies caused by the rise of artistic modernism In this context Sheehan argues we can see the first signs of what would become the modern style of museum architecture and modes of display The first study of its kind this highly accessible book will appeal to historians museum professionals and anyone interested in the relationship between art politics and culture
