M. de Lange, 1967 Shaping the International Relations of the Netherlands, 1815-2000 Ruud van Dijk, Samuël Kruizinga, Vincent Kuitenbrouwer, Rimko van der Maar, 2018-02-28 This book seeks to launch a new research agenda for the historiography of Dutch foreign relations during the nineteenth and twentieth centuries It does so in two important ways First it broadens the analytical perspective to include a variety of non state actors beyond politicians and diplomats Second it focuses on the transnational connections that shaped the foreign relations of the Netherlands emphasizing the effects of post colonialism and internationalism Furthermore this essay collection highlights not only the key roles played by Dutch actors on the international scene but also serves as an important point of comparison for the activities of their counterparts in other small states Histories of Global Inequality Christian Olaf Christiansen, Steven L. B. Jensen, 2019-07-09 This book argues that inequality is not just about numbers but is also about lived historical experience It supplements economic research and offers a comprehensive stocktaking of existing thinking on global inequality and its historical development The book is interdisciplinary drawing upon regional and national perspectives from around the world while seeking to capture the multidimensionality and multi causality of global inequalities Grappling with what economics offers as well as its blind spots the study focuses on some of today s most relevant and pressing themes discrimination and human rights defences and critiques of inequality in history decolonization international organizations gender theory the history of quantification of inequality and the history of economic thought The historical case studies featured respond to the need for wider historical research and to calls to examine global inequality in a more holistic manner The Introduction Chapter 1 Histories of Global Inequality Introduction is open access under a CC BY 4 0 license via link springer.com The Development of Aid Gerard Van Bilzen, 2015-01-12 Aid to developing countries started well before World War II but was undertaken as an ad hoc activity or was delivered by private organizations This changed after the War In his Inaugural Address in 1949 the American President Harry Truman announced a bold new programme for making the benefits of our scientific advances and industrial progress available for the improvement and growth of underdeveloped nations the so called Point IV Plan At that time it was thought that this support would be needed only for a limited number of years comparable to the Marshall Plan assistance to Europe But reality proved to be different providing aid was a very long term affair Since the Fifties the aid provided has changed at different occasions In the beginning aid concentrated on constructing infrastructure such as roads railways dams and harbours in order to promote industrial development In the Sixties aid to agriculture was added and in the Seventies aid to social sectors Basic Needs was also provided The Eighties brought worldwide debt problems Major donors applied structural adjustment policies some called this the lost decade d cada perdida The Nineties saw the arrival of the first environmental considerations and asked for attention for the role of women and good governance The form of aid changed from projects to programmes and budget support Describing the different aid forms of the last 65 years and analysing why aid changed from time to time are the subjects of this book Professionals and students in the area of international cooperation will benefit from studying this history as at this moment old concepts are reappearing or applied by new donors like China Is the pendulum really swinging back as Louis Emmerij at one point suggested Lektuurgids , Brinkman's catalogus van boeken en tijdschriften ,1979 With 1901 1910 1956 1960 Repertorium is bound Brinkman s Titel catalogus van de gedurende 1901 1910 1956 1960 Title varies slightly Evangelie en maatschappij ,1969
