Encyclopedia of Nineteenth-Century Photography John Hannavy, 2013-12-16 The Encyclopedia of Nineteenth Century Photography is the first comprehensive encyclopedia of world photography up to the beginning of the twentieth century It sets out to be the standard definitive reference work on the subject for years to come Its coverage is global an important first in that authorities from all over the world have contributed their expertise and scholarship towards making this a truly comprehensive publication The Encyclopedia presents new and ground breaking research alongside accounts of the major established figures in the nineteenth century arena Coverage includes all the key people processes equipment movements styles debates and groupings which helped photography develop from being a solution in search of a problem when first invented to the essential communication tool creative medium and recorder of everyday life which it had become by the dawn of the twentieth century The sheer breadth of coverage in the 1200 essays makes the Encyclopedia of Nineteenth Century Photography an essential reference source for academics students researchers and libraries worldwide

Event Information Systems Markus Heuchert , 2021-04-15 Events are an essential element of society Advancing digital technologies and the ongoing globalization has put forward a variety of different business leisure or scientific events that need to be managed in order to take place As a result of the proliferation of digital technology IT systems are an indispensable part of this management process Amid this pandemic crisis these systems have become increasingly important due to the relocation of events into the virtual sphere Since every event entails different requirements event management systems need to be very flexible In contrast to other application systems this flexibility is needed during use as the requirements of future events are not known during the initial selection and roll out of the software This calls for an intensified dialogue between the business and IT to match technical possibilities with practical requirements Currently adequate means to support this dialogue are lacking To this end this dissertation presents a reference model that encompasses the essential processes and data structures in the domain In 36 application cases the reference model is instantiated and evaluated Practitioners and researchers are the intended audiences of this work Researchers may use it as a foundation to design novel IT artifacts in the domain Practitioners benefit from the first comprehensive tool to support the design and use of digital technology in event management
