Successful Change Management in Health Care Annette Chowthi-Williams, Geraldine Davis, 2022-03-03 Change is frequent in healthcare, yet change management is often far from perfect. This book considers the complexity of change within large organisations, explores existing models of change, and emphasises the vital role of emotional and cognitive readiness in successful change management. Despite the plethora of organisational change management approaches used in healthcare, the success rate of change in organisations can be as low as 30 percent. New thinking about change management is required to improve success in service development, improvement, and innovation. Arguing that emotional and cognitive readiness for change requires engagement with the people involved and a thorough understanding of areas of friction and potential challenge, this book also delves into the neglected issue of emotion, examining emotional labour and emotion and change. It investigates how human emotion can be incorporated into Change Management Models alongside and intertwined with cognitive approaches to support effective change. Using the NHS as a central case study, this book incorporates examples of actual change from a range of healthcare settings, from acute to primary care, enabling readers to see how Change Management Models can be adapted and utilised in practice. This is an essential read for students, future change leaders, and practitioners and managers leading and managing change in healthcare.

India Infrastructure Report 2012 Idfc Foundation, 2016-04-08 Today India's education sector remains a victim of poor policies, restrictive regulations, and orthodoxy. Despite being enrolled in schools, children are not learning adequately. Increasingly, parents are seeking alternatives through private inputs in school and tuition. Students are dropping out from secondary school in spite of high financial returns of secondary education, and those who do complete it have inferior conceptual knowledge. Higher education is over-regulated and under-governed, keeping away serious private providers and reputed global institutes. Graduates from high schools, colleges, and universities are not readily employable, and few are willing to pay for skill development. Ironically, the Right to Education Act, if strictly enforced, will result in closure of thousands of non-state schools, and millions of poor children will be left without access to education.

Eleventh in the series, India Infrastructure Report 2012 discusses challenges in the education sector: elementary, secondary, higher, and vocational, and explores strategies for constructive change and opportunities for the private sector. It suggests that immediate steps are required to reform the sector to reap the benefits from India's demographic dividend due to a rise in the working age population. Result of a collective effort led by the IDFC Foundation, this Report brings together a range of perspectives from academics, researchers and practitioners committed to enhancing educational practices. It will be an invaluable resource for policymakers, researchers and corporates.

Law Commission: Fiduciary Duties of Investment Intermediaries: A Consultation Paper - Consultation Paper No 215 Great Britain: Law Commission, 2013-10-28. The consultation paper Fiduciary Duties of Investments Intermediaries: A Consultation Paper follows on from the Kay Report on UK Equity Markets and Long Term Decision Making (see below) and uses pensions as the example, tracing a chain of intermediaries from the prospective pensioner saver to the registered shareholder of a UK company. There are well established duties on pension trustees to act in the best interests of scheme members and it looks at how far these duties require trustees to maximize financial return over a short time scale and how far trustees can consider other factors such as environmental and social impact. The consultation asks: Whether the law is right to allow trustees to consider ethical issues only in limited circumstances? Whether the legal obligations on trustees are conducive to investment strategies in the best interests of the ultimate beneficiaries and if not, what specifically needs to be done?
