Post-Revolution Nonfiction Film Joshua Malitsky, 2013-03-20 A study of how the state has used documentary films to create historical and political narratives in the Soviet Union and Cuba In the charged atmosphere of post revolution artistic and political forces often join in the effort to reimagine a new national space for a liberated people Joshua Malitsky examines nonfiction film and nation building to better understand documentary film as a tool used by the state to create powerful historical and political narratives Drawing on newsreels and documentaries produced in the aftermath of the Russian revolution of 1917 and the Cuban revolution of 1959 Malitsky demonstrates the ability of nonfiction film to help shape the new citizen and unify edify and modernize society as a whole Post Revolution Nonfiction Film not only presents a critical historical view of the politics rhetoric and aesthetics shaping post revolution Soviet and Cuban culture but also provides a framework for understanding the larger political and cultural implications of documentary and nonfiction film A splendid and highly readable book which imbues a suggestive comparison of cinema in the early years of the Soviet and Cuban revolutions with fresh insights Michael Chanan author of Cuban Cinema Joshua Malitsky here mines a rich seam By closely comparing Vertov and Alvarez he uncovers post revolutionary nonfiction film as a discernible entity with commonalities shared across time and cultures The extensive indeed vast archive of newsreels from both filmmakers is well worth the thorough attention he gives it suggesting a context for their better known documentaries And his situating of Esfir Shub's compilations as not so much an alternative to Vertov but rather a wholesale replacement approach to agitprop is also compelling All in all Malitsky offers a crucial corrective to much received thinking on 20th century radical film Brian Winston University of Lincoln UK

Dreamland Howard M. Sachar,2007-12-18 By the end of World War I in November 1918 Europe s old authoritarian empires had fallen and new and seemingly democratic governments were rising from the debris As successor states found their place on the map many hoped that a more liberal Europe would emerge But this post war idealism all too quickly collapsed under the political and economic pressures of the 1920s and 30s Howard M Sachar chronicles this visionary and tempestuous era by examining the fortunes of Europe s Jewish minority a group whose precarious status made them particularly sensitive to changes in the social order Writing with characteristic lucidity and verve Sachar spotlights an array of charismatic leaders from Hungarian Communist Bela Kun to Germany s Rosa Luxemburg France s Socialist Prime Minister Leon Blum and Austria s Sigmund Freud whose collective experience foretold significant democratic failures long before the Nazi rise to power In the richness of its human tapestry and the acuity of its social insights Dreamland masterfully expands our understanding of a watershed era in modern history

The Aesthetic of Revolution in the Film and Literature of Naguib Mahfouz (1952-1967) Nathaniel Greenberg,2014-07-02 In the wake of the 1952 Revolution Egypt s future Nobel laureate in literature devoted himself exclusively to writing for film The Aesthetic of Revolution in the Film and Literature of Naguib Mahfouz is the first full length study in English to examine this critical period in the author s career and to contextualize it within the scope of post revolutionary Egyptian politics and culture Before returning to literature in 1959 with his post revolutionary masterpiece Children of the Alley Mahfouz wrote or co wrote some twenty odd scripts many of them among the most successful in Egyptian history He did so at a time when film was the country's second largest export commodity after cotton and the domestic film industry in Egypt the fourth largest in the world Artistically his screenplays channeled the ideology of the revolution often raising themes of oppression and liberation and almost always within a storyline of criminal transgression But as he discussed in later articles and interviews the capacity for film to enumerate the flow of life through montage jump cuts lighting and close ups helped him to develop a darker faster and more complex vision of society This technological revolution was followed by a literary one in the 1960s a time when Mahfouz would generate through a series of short trenchant and often comedic novellas a deeply measured meditation on the experience of collective upheaval and the interpersonal impact of political transformation Black Wolf
