in both its technical and material forms Despite various ways the spatial turn has been taken up in legal thought questions of law movement and its materialities are too often overlooked This book addresses this oversight and it does so through an attention to the materialities of legal movement Paying attention to how law moves across different colonial and contemporary spaces this book reveals there is a problem with common law s place Primarily set in the postcolonial context of Australia although ranging beyond this nationalised topography both spatially and temporally this book argues movement is fundamental to the very terms of common law s existence How then might we move well Explored through examples of walking and burial this book responds to the challenge of how to live with a contemporary form of colonial legal inheritance by arguing we must take seriously the challenge of living with law and think more carefully about its spatial productions and place making activities Unsettling place this book returns the question of movement to jurisprudence Imagining for Real Tim Ingold,2021-11-11 What does imagination do for our perception of the world Why should reality be broken off from our imagining of it It was not always thus and in these essays Tim Ingold sets out to heal the break between reality and imagination at the heart of modern thought and science Imagining for Real joins with a lifeworld ever in creation attending to its formative processes corresponding with the lives of its human and nonhuman inhabitants Building on his two previous essay collections The Perception of the Environment and Being Alive this book rounds off the extraordinary intellectual project of one of the world s most renowned anthropologists Offering hope in troubled times these essays speak to coming generations in a language that surpasses disciplinary divisions They will be essential reading not only for anthropologists but also for students in fi elds ranging from art aesthetics architecture and archaeology to philosophy psychology human geography comparative literature and theology Art of the 20th Century Karl Ruhrberg,Klaus Honnef,Manfred Schneckenburger,Christiane Fricke,2000 The original edition of this ambitious reference was published in hardcover in 1998 in two oversize volumes 10x13 This edition combines the two volumes into one it s paperbound flexi cover the paper has a plastic coating smaller 8x10 and affordable for art book buyers with shallower pockets none of whom should pass it by The scope is encyclopedic half the work originally the first volume is devoted to painting the other half to sculpture new media and photography Chapters are arranged thematically and each page displays several examples in color of work under discussion The final section a lexicon of artists includes a small bandw photo of each artist as well as biographical information and details of work writings and exhibitions Ruhrberg and the three other authors are veteran art historians curators and writers as is editor Walther c Book News Inc The Art of Richard Long William Malpas,2007 A critical study of the work of British artist Richard Long
