Riches Without Wings Cleveland Family:

Riches Without Wings, Or, The Cleveland Family Elizabeth Oakes Prince Smith, 1839 Riches Without Wings, Or, The Cleveland Family Elizabeth Oakes Prince Smith, 1967 Sink or Swim Andrew Kopec, 2025-08-25 People living in the nineteenth century United States saw shocking upheavals in both the economy and in ideas of selfhood in a commercial society Narratives such as Horatio Alger's rags to riches tales allured Americans with visions of financial success while events such as the Panics of 1819 1837 1857 and 1865 threatened them with sudden and devastating financial failure The antebellum period's go ahead ethos encouraged individuals to form an identity amid this chaos by striving for financial success through risk taking that is to form a capitalist self Andrew Kopec argues that writers of this era were not immune to this business turbulence rather their responses to it shaped the development of American literature By examining the public and private writings of well known American writers including Washington Irving Catharine Maria Sedgwick Nathaniel Hawthorne Herman Melville and Frederick Douglass Kopec contends that instead of anxiously retreating from the volatile market these figures deliberately engaged with it in their writing These writers grappled with both the limits and opportunities of capitalist selfhood and tried in various ways to harness the economy's energies for the benefit of the self In making this argument Kopec invites readers to consider how this era of American literature questioned the ideologies of capitalist identity that seem inescapable today The Many Panics of 1837 Jessica M. Lepler, 2013-09-23 Reveals how people transformed their experiences of financial crisis into a single event that would serve as a turning point in American history Richard White, Or, One Eyed Dick of Massachusetts, 1841 A Bibliography of Female Economic Thought to 1940 Kirsten Kara Madden, Janet A. Seiz, Michèle A. Pujol, 2004 Contains references to over 10 000 articles books and pamphlets on economic issues written by more than 1 700 women published between 1770 and 1940 Introduction A Bibliography of Female Economic Thought up to 1940 Kirsten Madden, Michele Pujol, Janet Seiz, 2004-03-01 Contributions to female economic thought have come from prolific scholars leading social reformers economic journalists and government officials along with many other women who contributed only one or two works to the field It is perhaps for this reason that a comprehensive bibliographic collection has failed to appear until now This innovative book brings together the most comprehensive collection to date of references to women's economic writing from the 1770s to 1940 It includes thousands of contributions from more than 1 700 women from the UK the US and many other countries This bibliography is an important reference work for systematic inquiry into questions of gender and the history of economic thought This volume is a valuable resource and will interest researchers on women's contributions to economic thought the sociology of economics and the lives of female social scientists and activist authors With a comprehensive editorial introduction it fills a long standing gap and will be greeted warmly by scholars of the history of economic thought and those involved in feminist economics Hunt's Merchants' Magazine Freeman Hunt, 1841 The Merchants' Magazine and Commercial Review
