gathering makes manifest a rich community of accomplished voices a community whose immediate concerns are various whose informing circumstances diverge but whose common chord remains apprehensible and compelling a long devotion to peace attaining to a concurrent devotion to beauty Scott Cairns Ethics for Apocalyptic Times Daniel Shank Cruz, 2023-11-21 Ethics for Apocalyptic Times is about the role literature can play in helping readers cope with our present day crises including the COVID 19 pandemic climate change and the shift toward fascism in global politics Using the lens of Mennonite literature and their own personal experience as a culturally Mennonite queer Latinx person Daniel Shank Cruz investigates the age old question of what literature's role in society should be and argues that when we read literature theopoetically we can glean a relational ethic that teaches us how to act in our difficult times In this book Cruz theorizes theopoetics a feminist reading strategy that reveals the Divine via literature based on lived experiences and extends the concept to show how it is queer decolonial and equally applicable to secular and religious discourse Cruz's analysis focuses on Mennonite literature including Sofia Samatar's short story collection Tender and Miriam Toews's novel Women Talking but also examines a non Mennonite text Samuel R Delany's novel The Mad Man alongside practices of haiku and tarot to show how reading theopoetically is transferable to other literary traditions Weaving together close reading and personal narrative this pathbreaking book makes a significant and original contribution to the field of Mennonite literary studies Cruz's arguments will also be appreciated by literary scholars interested in queer theory and the role of literature in society

Scattering Point Jeff Gundy, 2012-02-01 Part memoir part family history part meditation on history and the present this work of creative nonfiction allows Jeff Gundy to ask what it should mean to live in the world but not of it as the traditional Mennonite saying recommends As Scattering Point moves through time and space it repeatedly questions how a modern assimilated Mennonite poet and professor might live with some kind of fidelity to his tradition and to the promises and griefs of contemporary life Scattering Point takes its title from Scattering Point Creek which has its source on the author's family farm in Illinois This book explores that place while also ranging widely from it and the Amish and Mennonites who have been associated with the area for nearly the last century It traverses the Illinois prairie to churches and caves in Europe and incorporates family stories soil geology the architecture of cathedrals and churches reflections on depression and Mennonite martyrdoms and schisms Scattering Point speaks of the great questions of history and religion the quiet lives of Amish and Mennonite men and women whose histories are almost forgotten and of our lives today Readers of all backgrounds will see something of themselves in Jeff Gundy who writes I must admit it I do love this world and many though not all of the things in it and whose quest is always for understanding that will allow us to go back into the world more able to undertake the difficult work of loving it as we should
