Growing Girls Susan A Miller, 2007-07-20 In the early years of the twentieth century Americans began to recognize adolescence as a developmental phase distinct from both childhood and adulthood This awareness however came fraught with anxiety about the debilitating effects of modern life on adolescents of both sexes For boys competitive sports as well as primitive outdoor activities offered by fledgling organizations such as the Boy Scouts would enable them to combat the effeminacy of an overly civilized society But for girls the remedy wasn't quite so clear Surprisingly the girl problem a crisis caused by the transition from a sheltered family centered Victorian childhood to modern adolescence where self control and a strong democratic spirit were required of reliable citizens was also solved by way of traditionally masculine adventurous outdoor activities as practiced by the Girl Scouts the Camp Fire Girls and many other similar organizations Susan A Miller explores these girls organizations that sprung up in the first half of the twentieth century from a socio historical perspective showing how the notions of uniform identity civic duty primitive domesticity and fitness shaped the formation of the modern girl

Birnbaum, 2017-07-05 Women Artists in Interwar France Framing Femininities illuminates the importance of the Soci des Femmes Artists Modernes more commonly known as FAM and returns this group to its proper place in the history of modern art In particular this volume explores how FAM and its most famous members Suzanne Valadon Marie Laurencin and Tamara de Lempicka brought a new approach to the most prominent themes of female embodiment the self portrait motherhood and the female nude These women reimagined art's conventions and changed the direction of both art history and the politics of their contemporary art world FAM has been excluded from histories of modern art despite its prominence during the interwar years Paula Birnbaum's study redresses this omission contextualizing the group's legacy in light of the conservative politics of 1930s France The group's artistic response to the reactionary views and images of women at the time is shown to be a key element in the narrative of modernist formalism Although many FAM works are missing one reason for the lack of attention paid to their efforts Birnbaum's extensive research through archives press clippings and first hand interviews with artists families reclaims FAM as an important chapter in the history of art from the interwar years
