Quinan, Kathrin Thiele, 2021-03-25 The concepts of biopolitics and necropolitics have increasingly gained scholarly attention particularly in light of today's urgent and troubling issues that mark some lives as more or less worthy than others including the migration crisis rise of populism on a global scale homonationalist practices and state sanctioned targeting of gender sexual racial and ethnic others This book aims to nuance this conversation by emphasising feminist and queer investments and interventions and by adding the analytical lens of cosmopolitics to ongoing debates around life living and death dying in the current political climate In this way we move forward toward envisioning feminist and queer futures that rethink categories such as human and subjectivity based on classical modern premises Informed by feminist queer studies postcolonial theory cultural analysis and critical posthumanism Biopolitics Necropolitics Cosmopolitics engages with longstanding questions of biopolitics and necropolitics in an era of neoliberalism and late capitalism but does so by urging for a more inclusive and less violent cosmopolitical framework Taking account of these global dynamics that are shaped by asymmetrical power relations this fruitful posthumanist and post decolonial approach allows for visions of transformation of the matrix of inclusion/exclusion into feminist queer futures that work towards planetary social justice This book is a significant new contribution to feminist and queer philosophy and politics and will be of interest to academics researchers and advanced students of gender studies postcolonial studies sociology philosophy politics and law The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of the Journal of Gender Studies Turkey's Necropolitical Laboratory Banu Bargu, 2019-10-08 Building on critical and contemporary theory these essays address the multiple ways in which the Turkish regime controls its citizens through physical destruction structural violence and exposure The 12 case studies include counterinsurgency warfare enforced disappearances cemeteries monuments prisons courts and the army Elgar Encyclopedia of Queer Studies Rob Cover, Christy E. Queer Lovers and Hateful Others Jin Haritaworn, 2015-07-20 Queer subjects have become acceptable in society only through being cast in the shadow of the new folk devil the homophobic migrant who is rendered by society as hateful and disposable This book explores this concept of queer regeneration Queerness has entered a transitional phase as it becomes co opted by neoliberalism to make punishment and neglect appear as signs of care and love for diversity To understand this transition Jin Haritaworn looks at the environments in which queer bodies have become worthy of protection discussing the everyday erasures that shape life in the inner city focusing on Berlin and how queer activists actively seek out and dispel the myths of sites of nostalgia for the invented traditions of women and gay friendliness The author explores a rich archive of media arts policy and activism including posters newspaper reports hate crime action plans urban projects psychological studies demonstrations kiss ins political speeches and films Through these sources the relationships between Islamophobia racism within Europe and the United States and the global war on terror serves to reinforce the politics of homonationalism

COVID Societies Deborah Lupton, 2022-04-03 COVID Societies presents a compelling and accessible overview of key sociocultural theories that can help us make sense of the diverse dynamic and complex elements of the COVID crisis. These include discussions of the political economy perspective, biopolitics, risk society and cultures, gender and queer theory, and more than human theory. The book provides insights into everyday life around the world as people battled with containing the pandemic and explores the broader historical, social, cultural, and political contexts in which these responses have developed. COVID 19 is the most serious pandemic to affect the world in the past century. We have all lived in COVID societies, the long term effects of which have yet to be experienced or imagined. The COVID crisis has affected countries, regions, within countries, and social groups within regions in strikingly different ways. These impacts are continually changing, just as the novel coronavirus has mutated into different strains and variants. Throughout the book, a series of intertwined threads cross back and forth between the macropolitical and micropolitical dimensions of COVID 19: contagion, death, risk, uncertainty, fear, social inequalities, stigma, blame, and power relations. Overarching these threads are five complementary themes: the historicity of COVID societies, the tension between local specificities and globalising forces, the control and management of human bodies, the boundary between Self and Other, and the continuously changing sociomaterial environments in which the world is living with and through the shocks of the COVID crisis. This book will be of great interest to anyone seeking to understand the manifold complex sociocultural consequences of the COVID 19 pandemic.

The Psychic Life of Racism in Gay Men's Communities Damien W. Riggs, 2017-12-06 The Psychic Life of Racism in Gay Men's Communities engages in the necessarily complex task of mapping out the operations of racialized desire as it circulates among gay men. In exploring such desire, the contributors to this collection consider the intersections of privilege and marginalization in the context of gay men's lives and, in so doing, argue that as much as experiences of discrimination on the basis of sexuality are shared among many gay men, experiences of discrimination within gay communities are equally as common. Focusing specifically on racialization, the contributors offer insight as to how hierarchies, inequalities, and practices of exclusion serve to bolster the central position accorded to certain groups of gay men at the expense of other groups. Considering how racial desire operates within gay communities allows the contributors to connect contemporary struggles for inclusion and recognition with ongoing histories of marginalization and exclusion. The Psychic Life of Racism in Gay Men's Communities is an important intervention that disputes the claim that gay communities are primarily organized around acceptance and homogeneity and instead demonstrates the considerable diversity and ongoing tensions that mark gay men's relationships with one another.
