The New Politics of the Textbook Heather Hickman, Brad J.

Porfilio, 2012-10-13 In an age of unprecedented corporate and political control over life inside of educational institutions this book provides a needed intervention to investigate how the economic and political elite use traditional artifacts in K-16 schools to perpetuate their interests at the expense of minoritized social groups The contributors provide a comprehensive examination of how textbooks the most dominant cultural force in which corporations and political leaders impact the schooling curricula shape students' thoughts and behavior perpetuate power in dominant groups and trivialize social groups who are oppressed on the structural axes of race class gender sexuality and disability Several contributors also generate critical insight in how power shapes the production of textbooks and evaluate whether textbooks still perpetuate dominant Western narratives that normalize and privilege patriotism militarism consumerism White supremacy heterosexism rugged individualism technology and a positivistic conception of the world Finally the book highlights several textbooks that challenge readers to rethink their stereotypical views of the Other to reflect upon the constitutive forces causing oppression in schools and in the wider society and to reflect upon how to challenge corporate and political dominance over knowledge production

Literacy and the Politics of Representation Mary Hamilton, 2012 Literacy is a key indicator for comparing individuals and nations in contemporary society It is central to public debates about the nature of the public sphere economic markets citizenship and self governance Literacy and the Politics of Representation aims to uncover the constructed nature of public understandings of literacy by examining detailed examples of how literacy is represented in a range of public contexts It looks at the ways in which knowledge about literacy is created and distributed the location and relative power of the knowledge makers and examines the different semiotic resources used in such representations images and metaphors numerical and statistical models and textual narratives and how they are related to one another The book focuses on the UK from 1970 to the present but includes a range of international comparisons and examples In addition exemplar chapters offer a model of analysis that can be used to deconstruct the representations of social policy issues This book is vital reading for postgraduate students in the areas of education studies literacy discourse analysis and multimodality
