Qualitative Educational Research Readings In Reflexive Methodology And Transformative Practice:

Qualitative Educational Research Wendy Luttrell, 2010 A comprehensive anthology that helps deepen students thinking about their qualitative research purposes questions and decision making Discourse, Power, and Resistance Down Under Mark Vicars, Tarquam McKenna, Julie White, 2012-10-26 This edited collection is an eclectic and provocative volume taken from presentations that reflect the scholarship of the inaugural AQR DPR Down Under conference that was held in Cairns in 2011 in Australia This was a ground breaking conference that brought together scholars researchers and practitioners from across Australia UK Japan Italy Finland New Zealand Luxembourg South Africa Vietnam Malaysia Tanzania and Mexico The theme of the conference represented at the conference and in this volume was that of Politicizing Qualitative Research Delegates presented papers that sought to challenge research practices that too often can delegitimize Other ways of knowing Confronting disrupting and resisting the epistemological common sense way of doing research within the academy can be a risky business and is often a fraught and contested endeavor However as the papers in this volume illustrate contestation promises opportunities for re perceiving re interpreting and productively disrupting the orthodoxies of disciplinarity Many thanks to Ignacio Rojas whose patient assistance and expertise as an artist in designing the cover proved invaluable in bringing this book to print Ethnography in Education David Mills, Missy Morton, 2013-04-29 Written in a clear accessible style this inspirational book is both a practical guide and a survey of the different ways of doing ethnography Drawing on wide ranging examples and using classic and contemporary ethnographies the authors demonstrate the importance of developing an ethnographic sensibility A most valuable resource Cris Shore University of Auckland Ethnography in Education is an accessible guidebook to the different approaches taken by ethnographers studying education Drawing on their own experience of teaching and using these methods the authors help you cultivate an ethnographic imagination in your own research and writing With extended examples of ethnographic analysis the book will introduce you to ethnographic classics the best existing textbooks debates about new approaches and innovations This book is ideal for postgraduate students in Education and related disciplines seeking to use an ethnographic approach in their Masters and Doctoral theses David Mills is a University Lecturer in Education University of Oxford Missy Morton is Associate Professor and Head of School of Educational Studies and Leadership College of Education University of Canterbury Research Methods in Education series Each book in this series maps the territory of a key research approach or topic in order to help readers progress from beginner to advanced researcher Each book aims to provide a definitive market leading overview and to present a blend of theory and practice with a critical edge All titles in the series are written for Master s level students anywhere and are intended to be useful to the many diverse constituencies interested in research on education and related areas Other books in the series Using Case Study in Education Research Hamilton and Corbett Whittier Qualitative Research in Education Atkins and Wallace Action Research in Education McAteer Negotiating Spaces for Literacy Learning Mary

Hamilton, Rachel Heydon, Kathryn Hibbert, Roz Stooke, 2015-05-21 Negotiating Spaces for Literacy Learning addresses two paradoxical currents that are sweeping through the contemporary educational field. The first is the opening up of possibilities for multimodal communication as a result of developments in digital technologies and the sensitivity to multiliteracies. The second is the increasing pressure from standardised testing, accountability and performance measurement which pull curricular and pedagogical practices out of alignment with the everyday informal practices and interests of teachers and learners and narrow opportunities for diverse expressions of literacy. Bringing together an international team of scholars to examine the tensions and struggles that result from the current educational climate, the book provides a much needed discussion of the intersection of technologies of literacies, education and self. It does so through diverse approaches including philosophical, theoretical and methodological treatments of multimodality and governmentality and a range of literacies: early years, primary school, workplace, digital, middle school, secondary school, indigenous, adult and place. With examples taken from all stages of education and in several countries, the book allows readers to explore a range of multimodal practices and the ways in which governmentality plays out across them. Teacher Training and the Education of Black Children Uvanney Maylor, 2014-01-10 This book is designed to challenge dominant educational discourses on the underachievement of Black children and to engender new understandings in initial teacher education (ITE) about Black children's education and achievement. Based in empirical case study work and theoretical insights drawn from Bourdieu, hooks, Freire and Giroux, Maylor calls for Black children's underachievement to be re-theorised and re-conceptualised within teacher education and for students and teachers to become more race and difference minded in their practice. The Infrastructure of Accountability Dorothea Anagnostopoulos, Stacey A. Rutledge, Rebecca Jacobsen, 2013-04-01 The Infrastructure of Accountability brings together leading and emerging scholars who set forth an ambitious conceptual framework for understanding the full impact of large scale performance based accountability systems on education. Over the past 20 years, schools and school systems have been utterly reshaped by the demands of test based accountability. Interest in large scale performance data has reached an unprecedented high point. Yet most education researchers focus primarily on questions of data quality and the effectiveness of data use. In this bold and thought provoking volume, the contributors look beneath the surface of all this activity to uncover the hidden infrastructure that supports the production, flow and use of data in education and explore the impact of these large scale information systems on American schooling. These systems, the editors note, sit at the juncture of technical networks, work practices, knowledge production and moral order. Invisible Forces Pei Pei Liu, 2023-12-01 Invisible Forces explores the critical role that classroom educators play in supporting student motivation throughout the transition from high school to college. Educators consistently identify student motivation as a top concern, particularly during the transition to college, but often feel helpless to influence it. Some assume that students are simply motivated or not. Others are daunted by trying to shape an unobservable psychological phenomenon. Invisible Forces provides a framework for thinking of student motivation as a set of internal mindsets that are promoted or thwarted through a complex ecology of personal classroom institutional and systemic factors Using the method of portraiture Pei Pei Liu brings this ecology to life The book presents a series of four rich case studies of educators efforts to support student motivation and the challenges they encounter in secondary and postsecondary writing classrooms Attuned to the unique status of writing based courses as a near universal academic experience throughout the transition from high school to college these portraits shed light on different strategies make a case for institutional support of instructors and pave the way for greater alignment between secondary and postsecondary settings

Inequality in Economics and Sociology Gilberto Antonelli, Boike Rehbein, 2017-07-06 Inequality remains one of the most intensely discussed topics on a global level As well as figuring prominently in economics it is possibly the most central topic of sociology Despite this there has been no book until now that unites approaches from economics and sociology Organized thematically this volume brings international scholars together to offer students and researchers a cutting edge overview of the core topics of inequality research Chapters cover the theoretical traditions in economics and sociology the global and national structures of inequality in the contemporary world the main dimensions of inequality including gender race caste migration education and poverty and research methodology In presenting this overview Inequality in Economics and Sociology seeks to build a bridge between the disciplines and the approaches This book offers an encompassing understanding of an increasingly fragmented and highly specialized field of research It will be invaluable for students and researchers seeking a single repository on the current state of knowledge current debates and relevant literature in this key area
