Luke 6:40 and the Theme of Likeness Education in the New Testament Thomas W. Hudgins, 2014-01-07 What does Jesus mean when he says A disciple is not above his teacher but each disciple after being fully trained will be like his teacher Luke 6 40 This verse has been quoted cited and referenced in vast amounts of Christian education and discipleship literature Nevertheless the verse is nearly untouched in exegetical discussions with the exception of source critical analyses From this verse arises an undeveloped theme in the Gospel of Luke and the New Testament the theme of likeness education Using content analysis methodology Luke 6 40 one of the keystone passages in Christian education literature serves as the starting point for mining out the theme of likeness education in the New Testament This study consists of three concentric areas of investigation 1 Luke 6 40 and its immediate context 2 Luke Acts and 3 the New Testament corpus

Financial Management in the NHS Great Britain: National Audit Office, Audit Commission for Local Authorities and the National Health Service in England and Wales, Great Britain: NHS Executive, 2005-06-24 This joint report was prepared by the National Audit Office and the Audit Commission and contains the findings from the NAO s audit of the NHS summarized accounts and the Audit Commission s appointed auditors work on the 2003 04 accounts of individual NHS organizations The report outlines the financial issues facing individual NHS organizations with an overview of the effects of these issues at national level and how this will affect the national health economy In 2003 04 the NHS spent a total of 63 billion with expenditure costs in the NHS rising by 7 3 per cent each year This will increase the costs to 76 billion for the 2005 06 and 93 billion for 2007 08 periods Alongside this increasing expenditure the Government has set out various reform plans including the establishment of the NHS Foundation Trusts new staffing contracts the development of the information technology infrastructure and the way hospitals are funded In the Summary of the financial performance for 2003 04 period the number of bodies failing to achieve a financial balance had increased along with an increase in the number of bodies with significant financial deficits In all 106 NHS bodies failed to achieve an in year financial balance and 14% of the Primary Care Trusts failed to keep expenditure within their resource limit also a small number of NHS bodies are struggling to manage large deficits The report advocates four key themes for the improvement of financial management the role of the Board who should display better oversight and improve their financial acumen forecasting NHS bodies should continually test whether cost savings programmes are realistic and take account more effectively for risk factors in their financial planning as well as set realistic budgets at the beginning of the year earlier preparation of accounts improvements in financial reporting and the provision of financial information throughout the year should closely reflect the standard and range of information required in the annual accounts transparency that boards managers stakeholders would benefit from clarity in the way the accounts are organized and that the amount of financial support received by the trusts should be clearly stated With the introduction of Payment by Results and the use of independent healthcare providers the income received by NHS Trusts is no longer certain So overall improvements in their financial forecasting and modeling with NHS Trusts in particular developing their commercial financial skills would be beneficial especially if they intend to become foundation trusts
