Language and Institutional Identity in the Post-Apartheid South African Higher Education Leketi Makalela, 2022-03-21 This book examines the intersections between education identity formation and language in post apartheid South Africa with specific attention to higher education It does so against the backdrop of the core argument that the sector plays a critical role in shaping re producing and perpetuating sectoral class sub national and national identities which in turn in the peculiar South African setting are almost invariably analogous with the historical fault lines determined and dictated by language as a marker of ethnic and racial identity The chapters in the book grapple with the nuances related to these intersections in the understanding that higher education language policies overt and or covert largely structure institutional cultures or what has been described as curriculum in higher education institutions Together the chapters examine the roles played by higher education by language policies and by the intersections of these policies and ethnolinguistic identities in either constructing and perpetuating or deconstructing ethnolinguistic identities upon which the sector was founded The introductory chapter lays out the background to the entire book with an emphasis on the policy and practice perspectives on the intersections The middle chapters describe the so called White Universities Black Universities and Middle Man Minorities Universities The final chapter maps out future directions of the discourses on language and identity formation in South Africa s higher education

Personal Conceptions of Religiosity in the Soutpansberg, South Africa, in the Early 20th Century Caroline Jeannerat, 2023-01-20 Research into the history of Christian missions in the context of colonialism has focused primarily on missions as institutions and on the ways in which people were integrated into the economic political and ideological spheres of imperial powers Reduced to an experience occurring within a person faith was deemed unapproachable by scientific methods This has in effect constituted a silence regarding the everyday experience of religiosity among those drawn to Christianity The Ethnography of Faith is a detailed study of the ways in which people engage with and experience the religious in order to recognise and understand this suppressed voice of religiosity In her analysis of the Lutheran church in the Soutpansberg of early 20th century South Africa Caroline Jeannerat listens closely to how people describe their own faith and that of others in the archive in accounts of work done in texts written for mission publications in songs composed for church services in letters and newspaper articles and in oral memories A careful reading of this archive for breaks for misunderstandings and oppositions for sentiments of agreement praise compatibility and claims of shared experiences identifies negotiations of meaning which give indications of conceptualisations of faith that stand in distinction to those of the missionaries and their expectations
