The Geography of Genocide Allan D. Cooper, 2008-10-10 The Geography of Genocide offers a unique analysis of over sixty genocides in world history explaining why genocides only occur in territorial interiors and never originate from cosmopolitan urban centers This study explores why genocides tend to result from emasculating political defeats experienced by perpetrator groups and examines whether such extreme political violence is the product of a masculine identity crisis Author Allan D Cooper notes that genocides are most often organized and implemented by individuals who have experienced traumatic childhood events involving the abandonment or abuse by their father Although genocides target religious groups nations races or ethnic groups these identity structures are rarely at the heart of the war crimes that ensue Cooper integrates research derived from the study of serial killing and rape to show certain commonalities with the phenomenon of genocide The Geography of Genocide presents various strategies for responding to genocide and introduces Cooper s groundbreaking alternatives for ultimately inhibiting the occurrence of genocide

Cinema, Suffering and Psychoanalysis Laura Stephenson, 2023-12-14 Cinema Suffering and Psychoanalysis explores psychological disorder as common to the human condition using a unique three angled approach psychoanalysis recognises the inherent suffering encountered by each subject due to developmental phases psychology applies specific categorisation to how this suffering manifests cinema depicts suffering through a combination of video and aural elements Functioning as a culturally reflexive medium the six feature films analysed including Black Swan 2010 and The Machinist 2004 represent some of the most common psychological disorders and lived experiences of the contemporary era This book enters uncharted terrain in cinema scholarship by combining clinical psychology's Diagnostic and Statistical Manual Five DSM V to organise and diagnose each character and psychoanalysis to track the origin mechanism and affect of the psychological disorder within the narrative trajectory of each film Lacan's theories on the infantile mirror phase the Imaginary and the Symbolic and Freud's theories on the Real the big Other and the Event and Kristeva's theories on abjection and melancholia work in combination with the DSM's classification of symptoms to interpret six contemporary pieces of cinema By taking into consideration that origin mechanism affect and symptomatology are part of an interconnected group this book explores psychological disorder as part of the human condition something which contributes to and informs personal identity More specifically this research refutes the notion that psychological disorder and psychological health exist as a binary instead recognising that what has traditionally been pathologised may instead be viewed as variations on human identity
