Second New Deal Takes Hold Guided Answers:

The WPA Sandra Opdycke, 2016-04-14 Established in 1935 in the midst of the Great Depression the Works Progress Administration WPA was one of the most ambitious federal jobs programs ever created in the U S At its peak the program provided work for almost 35 million Americans employing more than 8 million people across its eight year history in projects ranging from constructing public buildings and roads to collecting oral histories and painting murals The story of the WPA provides a perfect entry point into the history of the Great Depression the New Deal and the early years of World War II while its example remains relevant today as the debate over government's role in the economy continues In this concise narrative supplemented by primary documents and an engaging companion website Sandra Opdycke explains the national crisis from which the WPA emerged traces the program's history and explores what it tells us about American society in the 1930s and 1940s Covering central themes including the politics race class gender and the coming of World War II The WPA Creating Jobs During the Great Depression introduces readers to a key period of crisis and change in U S history

The Green New Deal Jeremy Rifkin, 2019-09-10 New York Times Bestselling Author The renowned economic theorist explains how America can and must create a post fossil fuel culture to survive We can't keep doing business as usual Facing a global emergency a younger generation has spearheaded a national conversation around a Green New Deal a movement with the potential to revolutionize society But while the Green New Deal has become a lightning rod in the political sphere there is a parallel movement emerging within the business community that will shake the very foundation of the global economy in coming years Key sectors of the economy are fast decoupling from fossil fuels in favor of ever cheaper solar and wind energies and the new business opportunities and employment that accompany them New studies are sounding the alarm that trillions of dollars in stranded fossil fuel assets could create a carbon bubble likely to burst by 2028 causing the collapse of the fossil fuel civilization The marketplace is speaking and governments will need to adapt if they are to survive and prosper In The Green New Deal Jeremy Rifkin delivers the political narrative and economic plan for the Green New Deal that we need at this critical moment in history The concurrence of a stranded fossil fuel assets bubble and a green political vision opens up the possibility of a massive shift to a post carbon ecological era in time to prevent a temperature rise that will tip us over the edge into runaway climate change With twenty five years of experience implementing Green New Deal style transitions for both the European Union and the People's Republic of China Rifkin offers his vision for how to transform the global economy and save life on Earth The Green New Deal takes a stance quite different from that of typical Green New Deal supporters he's interested in building factories farms and vehicles in a fossil free world asserting that the Green New Deal is all about infrastructure The New York Times Book Review An urgent endorsement of efforts to remake a doomed fossil fuel economy before it's too late Kirkus Reviews
