Muslims In Britain Race Place And Identities:

Muslims in Britain Peter Hopkins, 2009-03-31 Following the events of 11th September 2001 in the USA and more especially the bombings on the London underground on 7th July 2005 and the incident at Glasgow Airport on 30th June 2007 an increasing amount of public attention has been focused upon Muslims in Britain Against the backdrop of this debate this book sets out a series of innovative insights into the everyday lives of Muslims living in contemporary Britain in an attempt to move beyond prevalent stereotypes concerning what it means to be Muslim Combining original empirical research with theoretical interventions this collection offers a range of reflections on how Muslims in Britain negotiate their everyday lives manage experiences of racism and exclusion and develop local networks and global connections The authors explore a broad range of themes including gender relations educational and economic issues migration and mobility religion and politics racism and Islamophobia and the construction and contestation of Muslim identities Threaded through the treatment of these themes is a unifying concern with the ways in which geography matters to how Muslims negotiate their daily experiences as well as their racialised gendered and religious identities Above all attention is focused upon the role of the home and local community the influence of the economy and the nation and the power of transnational connections and mobilities in the everyday lives of Muslims in Britain Includes contributions from Louise Archer Yahya Birt Sophie Bowlby Claire Dwyer Richard Gale Peter Hopkins Lily Kong Sally Lloyd Evans Sean McLoughlin Sharmina Mawani Tariq Modood Anjoom Mukadam Caroline Nagel Deborah Phillips Bindi Shah and Lynn Staeheli Muslims in Britain Waqar Ahmad, Ziauddin Sardar, 2012-06-14 The management of social religious and ethnic diversity is a key social policy concern in Britain and Muslims in particular have become a focus of attention in recent years This timely and topical volume examines the position of Muslims in Britain and how they are changing and making social political and religious space With contributions from world renowned scholars on British Muslims and from policy makers writing on issues of concern to Muslims and others alike the book explores how British Muslims are changing social and religious spaces such as mosques and the role of women engaging in politics creating media and other resources and thus developing new perspectives on Islam and transforming Muslim society from within Chapters cover issues of religion and politics Britishness governance parallel lives gender issues religion in civic space ethnicity and inter ethnic and religious relations as well as the role of intellectuals chaplains and activists in reforming Islam and renovating the British political landscape Providing a broad and comprehensive examination of the key issues surrounding Muslims in the UK this book will be a valuable resource for students lecturers and researchers in sociology social policy geography politics Islamic studies and other related disciplines 'Race,' Space and Multiculturalism in Northern England Shamim Miah, Pete Sanderson, Paul Thomas, 2020-06-02 This book challenges the narrative of Northern England as a failed space of multiculturalism drawing on a historically contextualised discussion of ethnic relations to argue that multiculturalism has been more successful and locally situated than these assumptions allow

The authors examine the interplay between race space and place to analyse how profound economic change the evolving nature of the state individual racism and the local creation and enactment of multiculturalist policies have all contributed to shaping the trajectory of ethnic faith identities and inter community relations at a local level In doing so the book analyses both change and continuity in discussion of and national local state policy towards ethnic relations particularly around the supposed segregation integration dichotomy and the ways in which racialised events are perceived and identities are created and reflected in state policy operations Drawing on the authors long involvement in empirical research policy and practice around ethnicity race and racism in the Northern England they effectively support critical and situated analysis of controversial racialised issues and set these geographically specific findings in the context of wider international experiences of and tensions around growing ethnic diversity in the context of profound economic and social changes Muslim

Diaspora in Britain Sabah Khan,2024-03-13 This book explores the idea of Muslim diaspora in context of Muslim communities in the United Kingdom It critically looks at the notion of ummah and presents a comprehensive account of South Asian Muslims in London Employing qualitative research methods and drawing on extensive fieldwork it delves into the identification and transnational connections of Muslims in Britain It shows the ways in which religious identity practices and experiences may instigate diasporas focusing on South Asian Muslims in London Indian Pakistani and Bangladeshi Muslims who account for 3.6 per cent of the total population Further the inter as well as intra group dynamics and studies how Muslims of different ethnic background settled in the same geo political context engage with the notion of ummah The volume will be of great interest to scholars and researchers of religion especially Islam politics British studies and South Asian studies Muslims in Britain Sophie Gilliat-Ray,2010-06-10 Drawing upon sociology history anthropology and politics this book provides an informed understanding of the daily lives of British Muslims

Everyday Islamophobia Peter Hopkins,2025-09-17 Available open access digitally under CC BY NC ND licence Everyday experiences of anti Muslim racism include accounts of Islamophobia in public spaces in the school playground on social media and on public transport This book explores how Islamophobia pervades the daily lives of Muslims and those perceived to be Muslim drawing upon work by the author and leading researchers Everyday Islamophobia tends to be regarded as low level or trivial This book considers the influence of organisations agencies and individuals on those who find themselves negotiating its significant harms in education the community and online It concludes by exploring strategies to challenge and resist Islamophobia Muslims in the Bulgarian and the British Press Desislava Cheshmedzhieva-Stoycheva,2024-09-28 This book compares the ways in which the national media in two different countries construct frame and develop the image of the religious other in this case Muslims in all their variety Although it introduces concepts such as race and racism otherness Orientalism and Islamophobia which may be familiar to the majority of readers in this manuscript they serve the purpose of a comparative analysis which has not been done on the subject to date The manuscript analyzes the thematic distribution of the articles as well as the definitions metaphors and stereotypes used thus presenting a complete and diverse image of Muslims along with the similarities and differences in the thinking patterns employed by Bulgarians and British on the subject and expressed in the respective mainstream media In this respect the manuscript fills a void in the scholarly literature on the ways the media discourses in two very different countries present the image of a religious group Here we can even talk about the existing divide between East and West and the changing perception of the religious Other fostered by the general digitalization and free flow of information As English is an international language it undeniably makes access to information easier however there are not many culture specific studies presenting the current state of a problem or the analyses on that particular topic the image of Muslims in that international medium Therefore the manuscript aims at introducing English speaking scholars students media people and generally everyone interested in the topic to the Bulgarian way of seeing depicting and talking about Muslims As stated above the manuscript draws parallels between the language used by the Bulgarian and the British media thus providing a similar starting point as the majority of the potential readers are probably more familiar with the latter In addition scholars working extensively with other local cultures and or media and resorting to English as a medium for the popularization of their research can use the presented analytical frame to their specific analyses and contribute even further to the enrichment of the global data base on the topic

Muslims in Western Europe Jonas Otterbeck, 2015-11-12 A useful introduction to the social political cultural and religious position of Muslims living in contemporary Europe It describes the history of early European Muslims and outlines the causes and courses of twentieth century Muslim immigration

Religion and Atheism in Dialogue Anthony Carroll, Richard Norman, 2025-06-23 The divide in our societies between those who are religious and those who are not is becoming increasingly apparent in many areas of contemporary life This fascinating book based on conversations between religious and nonreligious participants asks if societies divided on such fundamental questions can nonetheless find some common ground A rich array of topics is explored including the linguistic complexities of using the concept of God the relation between science and religion the ethics of altruistic concern sexuality and gender roles and the possibility of shedding light on important positions often taken to be intractable or nonnegotiable In addition topics of a more reflective nature but also prone to polarise are also examined such as spiritual experience and practice mindfulness the arts and the nature of human consciousness Religion and Atheism in Dialogue will interest anyone who is concerned about the current tensions and even conflicts exhibited between religious and secular positions on a range of key issues and how it might be possible to move beyond them It will also be of interest to students of ethics philosophy of religion and religious studies and all those who are concerned to explore how better dialogue across differences might be possible

Muslim Fashion Reina Lewis, 2015-10-15 In the shops of London s Oxford Street girls wear patterned scarves over their hair as they cluster around makeup counters Alongside them hip twenty somethings style their head wraps in high black topknots to match their black boot cut trousers Participating in the world of popular mainstream fashion often thought to be the domain of the West these young Muslim women are part of an emergent cross faith transnational youth subculture of modest fashion In treating hijab and other forms of modest clothing as fashion Reina Lewis counters the overuse of images of veiled women as evidence in the prevalent suggestion that Muslims and Islam are incompatible with Western modernity Muslim Fashion contextualizes modest wardrobe styling within Islamic and global consumer cultures interviewing key players including designers bloggers shoppers store clerks and shop owners Focusing on Britain North America and Turkey Lewis provides insights into the ways young Muslim women use multiple fashion systems to negotiate religion identity and ethnicity
