The Paradox of Planetary Human Entanglements Inocent Moyo, Sabelo J. Ndlovu-Gatsheni, 2022-12-30 The Paradox of Planetary Human

Entanglements provides a nuanced understanding of the complexity of planetary human entanglements in this age of increased borderisation and territorialisation racism and xenophobia and inclusion and exclusion One of the greatest paradoxes of the 21st century is that of increased planetary human entanglements enabled by globalisation on the one hand and by the rising tide of exclusionary right wing politics of racism xenophobia and the building of walled states on the other The characteristic feature of this paradox is the unrestrained move towards the detention and incarceration of those who attempt to migrate This brings to the fore the issue of borders in terms of their materiality and symbolism and how this mediates belonging citizenship and the ethics or lack thereof and politics of living together This book shows that at the core of border and migration restrictions is the desire to exclude certain categories of people which aptly demonstrates that borders in their materiality are not for everyone but for those who are considered undesirable migrants The authors examine questions of borders nationalism migration immigration and belonging setting the basis of a campaign for planetary humanism grounded on human dignity which transcends ethnicity and nationality This book will be a useful resource for students scholars and researchers of African Studies Border Studies Migration Studies Development Studies International Studies Black Studies International Relations and Political Science Writings About Kashmir Nyla Ali Khan, 2022-12-26 Any attempt to homogenize Kashmiri society or the politico cultural discourse on Kashmir is a dangerously flawed exercise To that end the chapters in this book address various aspects of the political cultural and socioeconomic life in Kashmir These chapters are interdisciplinary interventions that could potentially bridge ethnic religiocultural and political divides in the region The book is divided into three sections the first section explores history and memory offering a critical dialogue between these phenomena and fiction The chapters in section two offer a critical dialogue between history politics and gender analyzing historical and political discourses to underscore the agential capacities of Kashmiri women which are traditionally subsumed within masculinist discourse The sole chapter in section three foregrounds the complex relationship between history trauma and poetry Taken together this book is a nuanced attempt at giving readers the opportunity to engage with multiple subjectivities historical understandings and political opinions It will be of interest to general readers

Articulating Childhood Trauma Kamayani Kumar, 2024-02-27 The volume addresses the pertinent need to examine childhood trauma revolving around themes of war, sexual abuse, and disability. Drawing narratives from spatial, temporal, and cultural contexts, the book analyses how conflict, abuse, domestic violence, contours of gender construction, and narratives of ableism affect a child's transactions with society. While exploring complex manifestations of children's experience of trauma, the volume seeks to understand the issues related to translatability, representation of trauma, bearing in mind the fact that children often lack the language to express their sense of loss. The book, in its study of childhood trauma, does a close exegesis of select literary pieces, drawings done by children, memoirs, and graphic narratives. Academicians and research scholars from the disciplines of childhood studies, trauma studies, resilience studies, visual studies, gender studies, cultural studies, disability studies, and film studies stand to benefit from this volume.
