Perception Action And Consciousness Sensorimotor Dynamics And Two Visual Systems:

Perception, Action, and Consciousness Nivedita Gangopadhyay, Michael Madary, Finn Spicer, 2010-08-19 What is the relationship between perception and action between an organism and its environment in explaining consciousness This book is an interdisciplinary exploration of the relationship between perception and action with a focus on the debate about the dual visual systems hypothesis against action oriented theories of perception Towards a Theory of Epistemically Significant Perception Nadja El Kassir, 2015-09-25 How does perceptual experience make us knowledgeable about the world In this book Nadja El Kassir argues that an informed answer requires a novel theory of perception perceptual experience involves conceptual capacities and consists in a relation between a perceiver and the world Contemporary theories of perception disagree about the role of content and conceptual capacities in perceptual experience In her analysis El Kassir scrutinizes the arguments of conceptualist and relationist theories thereby exposing their limitations for explaining the epistemic role of perceptual experience Against this background she develops her novel theory of epistemically significant perception Her theory improves on current accounts by encompassing both the epistemic role of perceptual experiences and its perceptual character Central claims of her theory receive additional support from work in vision science making this book an original contribution to the philosophy of perception Action Science Wolfgang Prinz, Miriam Beisert, Arvid Herwig, 2013-02-01 An overview of today's diverse theoretical and methodological approaches to action and the relationship of action and cognition The emerging field of action science is characterized by a diversity of theoretical and methodological approaches that share the basic functional belief that evolution has optimized cognitive systems to serve the demands of action This book brings together the constitutive approaches of action science in a single source covering the relation of action to such cognitive functions as perception attention memory and volition Each chapter offers a tutorial like description of a major line of inquiry written by a leading scientist in the field Taken together the chapters reflect a dynamic and rapidly growing field and provide a forum for comparison and possible integration of approaches After discussing core questions about how actions are controlled and learned the book considers ecological approaches to action science neurocognitive approaches to action understanding and attention developmental approaches to action science social actions including imitation and joint action and the relationships between action and the conceptual system grounded cognition and between volition and action An emerging discipline depends on a rich and multifaceted supply of theoretical and methodological approaches The diversity of perspectives offered in this book will serve as a guide for future explorations in action science Contributors Lawrence W Barsalou Miriam Beisert Valerian Chambon Thomas Goschke Patrick Haggard Arvid Herwig Herbert Heuer Cecilia Heyes Bernhard Hommel Glyn W Humphreys Richard B Ivry Markus Kiefer G nther Knoblich Sally A Linkenauger Janeen D Loehr Peter J Marshall Andrew N Meltzoff Wolfgang Prinz Dennis R Proffitt Giacomo Rizzolatti David A Rosenbaum Natalie Sebanz Corrado Sinigaglia Sandra S lzenbr ck Jordan A Taylor Michael T Turvey Claes von Hofsten

Rebecca A Williamson Mobility of Visually Impaired People Edwige Pissaloux, Ramiro Velazquez, 2017-08-20 This book discusses the design of the new mobility assistive information and communication technologies ICT devices for the visually impaired The book begins with a definition of the space concept followed by the concept of interaction with a space during mobility and this interaction characteristics The contributors will then examine the neuro cognitive basis of space perception for mobility and different theories of space perception The text presents the existing technologies for space perception sense recovery with stem and iPS cells implants brain plasticity sensory substitution devices multi modal technologies etc the newest technologies for mobility assistance design the way the feedback on environment is conveyed to the end user Methods for formative and summative evaluations of the mobility devices will also be discussed The book concludes with a look to the future trends in research and technology development for mobility assistive information and communication technologies Normativity in Perception Maxime Doyon, Thiemo Breyer, 2015-08-25 The ways in which human action and rationality are guided by norms are well documented in philosophy and neighboring disciplines But how do norms shape the way we experience the world perceptually The present volume explores this question and investigates the specific normativity inherent to perception Visual Phenomenology Michael Madary, 2023-12-05 Phenomenological and empirical methods of investigating visual experience converge to support the thesis that visual perception is an ongoing process of anticipation and fulfillment In this book Michael Madary examines visual experience drawing on both phenomenological and empirical methods of investigation He finds that these two approaches careful philosophical description of experience and the science of vision independently converge on the same result Visual perception is an ongoing process of anticipation and fulfillment Madary first makes the case for the descriptive premise arguing that the phenomenology of vision is best described as an ongoing process of anticipation and fulfillment He discusses visual experience as being perspectival temporal and indeterminate considers the possibility of surprise when appearances do not change as we expect and considers the content of visual anticipation Madary then makes the case for the empirical premise showing that there are strong empirical reasons to model vision using the general form of anticipation and fulfillment He presents a range of evidence from perceptual psychology and neuroscience and reinterprets evidence for the two visual systems hypothesis Finally he considers the relationship between visual perception and social cognition An appendix discusses Husserlian phenomenology as it relates to the argument of the book Madary argues that the fact that there is a convergence of historically distinct methodologies itself is an argument that supports his findings With Visual Phenomenology he creates an exchange between the humanities and the sciences that takes both methods of investigation seriously The Eugenic Mind Project Robert A. Wilson, 2021-02-02 An examination of eugenic thinking past and present from forced sterilization to prenatal screening drawing on experience with those who survived eugenics Part science and part social movement eugenics emerged in the late nineteenth century as a tool for human improvement In response to perceived threats of criminality moral degeneration feeble mindedness and the rising tide of color eugenic laws and social policies aimed to better the human race by regulating reproductive choice through science and technology In this book Rob Wilson examines eugenic thought and practice from forced sterilization to prenatal screening drawing on his experience working with eugenics survivors Using the social sciences standpoint theory as a framework to understand the intersection of eugenics disability social inclusiveness and human variation Wilson focuses on those who have lived through a eugenic past and those confronted by the legacy of eugenic thinking today By doing so he brings eugenics from the distant past to the ongoing present Wilson discusses such topics as the conceptualization of eugenic traits the formulation of laws regulating immigration and marriage and requiring sexual sterilization the depiction of the targets of eugenics as subhuman the systematic construction of a concept of normality the eugenic logic in prenatal screening and contemporary bioethics and the incorporation of eugenics and disability into standpoint theory Interdisciplinary Approaches to Semiotics Asunción Lopez-Varela Azcárate,2017-08-23 This volume stresses the contemporary relevance of semiotics The introductory chapter shows how the collection of papers emphasises crossings at the material level of physical reality as well as in their semio cognitive and cultural implications questioning the delimitation of interdisciplinary borders between the social sciences and humanities and STEM disciplines The volume shows how semiotics continues to provide a framework for emerging knowledge traditions without completely disregarding its past Through explorations in fields as wide apart as ecological psychology and visualisation systems by finding correspondences between the arithmetic of music and cosmic energies or between the pedagogic significance of images and habitat facilities as well as using investigation tools ranging from the mathematical representation of concepts to science education this book addresses multifarious aspects and implications of culture and cognition standing convincing proof that semiotics is as alive productive and scholarly useful as ever The World at Our Fingertips Frédérique de Vignemont de Vignemont,Andrea Serino,Hong Yu Wong,Alessandro Farnè,2021-04-01 What difference is there between the visual experience of watching the moon in the sky and the visual experience of seeing a snake slither by your foot It is easy to believe our interpretation of the world is split into a binary mode between the bodily self and everything outside it There is however a buffer zone in the immediate surrounding of the body known as peripersonal space in which boundaries are blurred The notion of peripersonal space calls into question not only our entrenched theories of perception but also has major implications on the way we perceive personal and social awareness Research has yielded a vast array of exciting discoveries on peripersonal space across a variety of disciplines ethology social psychology anthropology neurology psychiatry and cognitive neuroscience The World at Our Fingertips A Multidisciplinary Exploration of Peripersonal Space brings these perspectives together for the first time as well as introducing a philosophical dialogue to the questions Edited by a team of leading psychologists and philosophers in the fields of peripersonal space and bodily awareness this comprehensive volume presents the reader with a fresh accessible dialogue between authorities from vastly different areas of thought New

Horizons For Second-order Cybernetics Alexander Riegler, Karl H Muller, Stuart A Umpleby, 2017-09-15 In almost 60 articles this book reviews the current state of second order cybernetics and investigates which new research methods second order cybernetics can offer to tackle wicked problems in science and in society The contributions explore its application to both scientific fields such as mathematics psychology and consciousness research and non scientific ones such as design theory and theater science The book uses a pluralistic multifaceted approach to discuss these applications Each main article is accompanied by several commentaries and author responses which together allow the reader to discover further perspectives than in the original article alone This procedure shows that second order cybernetics is already on its way to becoming an idea shared by many researchers in a variety of disciplines
