Procedural Justice And Legitimacy In Policing Springerbriefs In Criminology:

Procedural Justice and Legitimacy in Policing Lorraine Mazerolle, Elise Sargeant, Adrian Cherney, Sarah Bennett, Kristina Murphy, Emma Antrobus, Peter Martin, 2014-07-08 This brief focuses on the doing of procedural justice what the police can do to implement the principles of procedural justice and how their actions can improve citizen perceptions of police legitimacy Drawing on research from Australia Mazerolle et al the UK Stanko Bradford Jackson etc al the US Tyler Reisig Weisburd Israel Jonathon Zamir et al Trinidad Tobago Kochel et al and Ghana Tankebe the authors examine the practical ways that the police can approach engagement with citizens across a range of different types of interventions to embrace the principles of procedural justice including problem oriented policing patrol restorative justice reassurance policing and community policing Through these examples the authors also examine some of the barriers for implementing procedurally just ways of interacting with citizens and offer practical suggestions for reform This work will be of interest for researchers in criminology and criminal justice focused on policing as well as policymakers Procedural Justice and Relational Theory Denise Meyerson, Catriona Mackenzie, Therese MacDermott, 2020-10-29 This book bridges a scholarly divide between empirical and normative theorizing about procedural justice in the context of relations of power between citizens and the state Empirical research establishes that people's understanding of procedural justice is shaped by relational factors A central premise of this volume is that this research is significant but needs to be complemented by normative theorizing that draws on relational theories of ethics and justice to explain the moral significance of procedures and make normative sense of people's concerns about relational factors The chapters in Part 1 provide comprehensive reviews of empirical studies of procedural justice in policing courts and prisons Part 2 explores empirical and normative perspectives on procedural justice and legitimacy Part 3 examines philosophical approaches to procedural justice Part 4 considers the implications of a relational perspective for the design of procedures in a range of legal contexts This collection will be of interest to a wide academic readership in philosophy law psychology and criminology Evidence Based Policing Renée J. Mitchell, Laura Huey, 2018-12-05 Over the past ten years the field of evidence based policing EBP has grown substantially evolving from a novel idea at the fringes of policing to an increasingly core component of contemporary policing research and practice Examining what makes something evidence based and not merely evidence informed this book unifies the voices of police practitioners academics and pracademics It provides real world examples of evidence based police practices and how police research can be created and applied in the field Includes contributions from leading international EBP researchers and practitioners such as Larry Sherman University of Cambridge Lorraine Mazerolle University of Queensland Anthony Braga Northeastern and Craig Bennell Carleton University Police-Citizen Relations Across the World Dietrich Oberwittler, Sebastian Roché, 2017-10-02 Police citizen relations are in the public spotlight following outbursts of anger and violence Such clashes often happen as a response to fatal police shootings racial or ethnic discrimination or the mishandling of mass protests But even in such cases citizens assessment of the police differs considerably across social groups This raises the question of the sources and impediments of citizens trust and support for police Why are police citizen relations much better in some countries than in others Are police minority relations doomed to be strained And which police practices and policing policies generate trust and legitimacy Research on police legitimacy has been centred on US experiences and relied on procedural justice as the main theoretical approach This book questions whether this approach is suitable and sufficient to understand public attitudes towards the police across different countries and regions of the world This volume shows that the impact of macro level conditions of societal cleavages and of state and political institutions on police citizen relations has too often been neglected in contemporary research Building on empirical studies from around the world as well as cross national comparisons this volume considerably expands current perspectives on the sources of police legitimacy and citizens trust in the police Combining the analysis of micro level interactions with a perspective on the contextual framework and varying national conditions the contributions to this book illustrate the strength of a broadened perspective and lead us to ask how specific national frameworks shape the experiences of policing

Regulatory Theory Peter Drahos, 2017-02-23 This volume introduces readers to regulatory theory Aimed at practitioners postgraduate students and those interested in regulation as a cross cutting theme in the social sciences Regulatory Theory includes chapters on the social psychological foundations of regulation as well as theories of regulation such as responsive regulation smart regulation and nodal governance It explores the key themes of compliance legal pluralism meta regulation the rule of law risk accountability globalisation and regulatory capitalism The environment crime health human rights investment migration and tax are among the fields of regulation considered in this ground breaking book Each chapter introduces the reader to key concepts and ideas and contains suggestions for further reading The contributors who either are or have been connected to the Regulatory Institutions Network RegNet at The Australian National University include John Braithwaite Valerie Braithwaite Peter Grabosky Neil Gunningham Fiona Haines Terry Halliday David Levi Faur Christine Parker Colin Scott and Clifford Shearing
