Process Writing Lives Great Authors:

The Writer's Process Anne Janzer, 2016-06-07 Want to be a better writer Perfect your process For example do you fear the blank page You may be skipping the essential early phases of writing Do you generate swarms of ideas but never publish anything You need strategies to focus and persist to the finish When you learn to work with your brain instead of against it you ll get more done and have more fun Master the inner game of writing The Writer s Process combines proven practices of successful authors with cognitive science research about how our minds work You ll learn How to invite creativity and flow into the writing process Why separating the writing process into different steps makes you more productive How to overcome writer s block negative feedback and distractions How to make time for writing in a busy interrupt driven life It s filled with ideas that you can put into practice immediately The Writer s Process is a 2017 Readers Favorite Gold Medal Winner and a Foreword INDIES Book of the Year Silver Award winner Process Sarah Stodola, 2015 Ernest Hemingway Zadie Smith Joan Didion Franz Kafka David Foster Wallace and more In Process acclaimed journalist Sarah Stodola examines the creative methods of literature s most transformative figures Each chapter contains a mini biography of one of the world s most lauded authors focused solely on his or her writing process Unlike how to books that preach writing techniques or rules Process puts the true methods of writers on display in their most captivating incarnation within the context of the lives from which they sprang Drawn from both existing material and original research and interviews Stodola brings to light the fascinating unique and illuminating techniques behind these literary behemoths George MacDonald: A Writer's Life Michael Phillips, 2019-05-07 The leading MacDonald scholar and biographer presents the most comprehensive work to date on the 19th century author s life and work Best known for his fiction and fairy tales such as the immortal classics Robert Falconer and At the Back of the North Wind the Victorian author and theologian George MacDonald inspired some of the greatest writers of the 19th and 20th centuries Most notably C S Lewis credits MacDonald s books with inspiring his works of fantasy fiction as well as putting him on the path to Christianity In this major biographical work MacDonald scholar Michael Phillips examines how the events of the author s life contributed to his work and legacy Referring to this volume as a bibliographic biography Phillips brings his expertise to bear on the complete corpus of MacDonald s fiction pointing out each book s essential themes and offering insights into how each title can be most perceptively be read Writing Lives Together Felicity James, Julian North, 2017-09-27 A diary entry begun by a wife and finished by a husband a map of London its streets bearing the names of forgotten lives biographies of siblings and of spouses a poem which gives life to long dead voices from the archives All these feature in this volume as examples of writing lives together British life writing which has been collaboratively authored and or joins together the lives of multiple subjects The contributions to this book range over published and unpublished material from the late eighteenth to the late nineteenth centuries including biography auto biographical memoirs letters diaries sermons maps and directories The book closes with essays by contemporary practising biographers Daisy Hay and Laurel Brake who explain their decisions to move away from the single subject in writing the lives of figures from the Romantic and Victorian periods We conclude with the reflections and work of a contemporary poet Kathleen Bell writing on James Watt 1736 1819 and his family in a ghostly collaboration with the archives Taken as a whole the collection offers distinctive new readings of collaboration in theory and practice reflecting on the many ways in which lives might be written together across gender boundaries across time across genre This book was originally published as a special issue of Life Writing

Writing Vietnam, Writing Life Tobey C. Herzog, 2009-05 Phillip Caputo Larry Heinemann Tim O'Brien and Robert Olen Butler four young midwestern Americans coming of age during the 1960s who faced a difficult personal decision whether or not to fight in Vietnam Each chose to participate After coming home these four veterans became prizewinning authors telling the war stories and life stories of soldiers and civilians The four extended conversations included in Writing Vietnam Writing Life feature revealing personal stories alongside candid assessments of each author's distinct roles as son soldier writer and teacher of creative writing As Tobey Herzog's thoughtful interviews reveal these soldier authors have diverse upbringings values interests writing careers life experiences and literary voices They hold wide ranging views on among other things fatherhood war the military religion the creative process the current state of the world and the nature of both physical and moral courage For each author the conversation and richly annotated chronology provide an overview of the writer's life the intersection of memory and imagination in his writing and the path of his literary career Together these four life stories also offer mini tableaux of the fascinating and troubling time of 1960s and 1970s America Above all the conversations reveal that each author is linked forever to the Vietnam War the country of Vietnam and its people

Seven Steps on the Writer's Path Nancy Pickard, Lynn Lott, 2007-12-18 The blank page the impossible deadline the rush of inspiration There is no profession more maddening or more rewarding than being a writer Yet surprisingly all writers pass through the same sequence of stages in the course of their careers It was this remarkable insight that inspired veteran authors Nancy Pickard and Lynn Lott to write one of the wisest and liveliest guides to the literary life ever penned a volume of astonishing revelation warm reassurance brilliant encouragement and welcome humor No matter what you write or how much recognition you've received you are bound to pass through the seven steps on the writer's path Unhappiness Wanting Commitment Wavering Letting Go Immersion and Fulfillment Whether you're a wannabe writer or a published literary veteran you're bound to find this book a source of true delight vital wisdom and lasting inspiration

Women Writers and the Artifacts of Celebrity in the Long Nineteenth Century Maura Ives, Ann R. Hawkins, 2016-12-05 In 1788 the Catalogue of Five Hundred Celebrated Authors of Great Britain Now Living forecast a form of authorship that rested on biographical revelation and media saturation as well as literary achievement This collection traces the unique experiences of women writers within a celebrity culture that was intimately connected to the expansion of print technology and of visual and material culture in the nineteenth century The contributors examine a wide range of artifacts including prefaces portraits

frontispieces birthday books calendars and gossip columns to consider the nature of women's celebrity and the forces that created it How did authors like Jane Austen the Countess of Blessington Louisa May Alcott Alice Meynell and Marie Corelli negotiate the increasing demands for public revelation of the private self How did gender shape the posthumous participation of women writers such as Jane Austen Ellen Wood Mary Elizabeth Braddon and Christina Rossetti in celebrity culture These and other important questions related to the treatment of women in celebrity genres and media and the strategies women writers used to control their public images are taken up in this suggestive exploration of how nineteenth and early twentieth century women writers achieved popular critical and commercial success
