A New Role for Museum Educators Elizabeth Wood, 2023-06-26 A New Role for Museum Educators shows how learning happens in communities how volunteers and professionals approach their work the underlying principles and philosophies that guide the work of museum education and how these practices are always evolving to remain relevant Museum education in its most expansive definition is about communicating messages creating learning experiences and at its most aspirational promoting human development for people of all backgrounds abilities and circumstances This edited volume revisits the legacy of museum education practices reflecting on the changing context of community and the role of cultural institutions and provides insights into new directions that museums can take with a visitor centered mindset It provides foundational concepts around educational philosophies that guide practice applied methods and approaches for implementation and the ethos of an educational institution intended to support community learning and engagement that are essential to provide for the wide ranging needs of all audiences International perspectives from a variety of museums are considered including art museums children's museums history museums and historic sites science museums botanical gardens zoos and aquariums Chapters include thought provoking reflections on contemporary practices concrete examples from across the globe and useful tools for anyone working with public audiences Grounded in practice and informed by research this volume will be a go to resource for arts and cultural organization practitioners particularly those working in Museum Education It will also be essential reading for students of Museum Studies Education and related fields

Museums in a Troubled World Robert R. Janes, 2009-05-12 Are Museums Irrelevant Museums are rarely acknowledged in the global discussion of climate change environmental degradation the inevitability of depleted fossil fuels and the myriad local issues concerning the well being of particular communities suggesting the irrelevance of museums as social institutions At the same time there is a growing preoccupation among museums with the marketplace and museums unwittingly or not are embracing the values of relentless consumption that underlie the planetary difficulties of today Museums in a Troubled World argues that much more can be expected of museums as publicly supported and knowledge based institutions The weight of tradition and a lack of imagination are significant factors in museum inertia and these obstacles are also addressed Taking an interdisciplinary approach combining anthropology ethnography museum studies and management theory this book goes beyond conventional museum thinking Robert R Janes explores the meaning and role of museums as key intellectual and civic resources in a time of profound social and environmental change This volume is a constructive examination of what is wrong with contemporary museums written from an insider s perspective that is grounded in both hope and pragmatism The book s conclusions are optimistic and constructive and highlight the unique contributions that museums can make as social institutions embedded in their communities and owned by no one Time and Presence in Art Armin Bergmeier,Andrew Griebeler,2022-03-07 This volume explores the relationship between temporality and presence in medieval artworks from the third to the sixteenth centuries It is the first extensive treatment of the interconnections between medieval artworks varied presences and their ever shifting places in time The volume begins with reflections on the study of temporality and presence in medieval and early modern art history A second section presents case studies delving into the different ways medieval artworks once created and transformed their original viewers experience of the present These range from late antique Constantinople early Islamic Jerusalem and medieval Italy to early modern Venice and the Low Countries A final section explores how medieval artworks remain powerful and relevant today This section includes case studies on reconstructing presence in medieval art through embodied experience of pilgrimage art historical research and museum education In doing so the volume provides a first dialog between museum educators and art historians on the presence of medieval artifacts It includes contributions by Hans Belting Keith Moxey Rika Burnham and others Public Participation in Archaeology Suzie Thomas,Joanne Lea,2014 This volume examines the various facets of public archaeology practice globally and the factors which are currently affecting it together with the question of how different publics and communities engage with their archaeological heritage The Art of Museum Exhibitions Leslie Bedford,2016-06-16 Leslie Bedford former director of the highly regarded Bank Street College museum leadership program expands the museum professional s vision of exhibitions beyond the simple goal of transmitting knowledge to the visitor Her view of exhibitions as interactive emotional embodied imaginative experiences opens a new vista for those designing them Using examples both from her own work at the Boston Children s Museum and from other institutions around the globe Bedford offers the museum professional a bold new vision built around narrative imagination and aesthetics merging the work of the educator with that of the artist It is important reading for all museum professionals

Museums, Children and Social Action Sharon E. Shaffer, 2023-12-15 Museums Children and Social Action examines the role that museums play in reaching teaching and inspiring children as global citizens of the world and looking to the future argues that the sustainability of museums will come from strengthening relationships with young visitors Presenting a diverse range of programs exhibitions and outreach from museums across five continents Shaffer highlights how museums are already serving children and making a difference in their lives Arguing that museums have a unique responsibility to connect this audience with relevant social issues and challenges such as social injustice racism climate change and poverty Shaffer simultaneously acknowledges that a large number of children are still on the margins of the institution and its mission Recognizing the ways in which museums are currently serving children the book also considers what museums could and should be doing as they plan for the future raising critical questions about core values community partners and social agendas Museums Children and Social Action is essential reading for academics and students engaged in the study of museums social justice and childhood It encourages museums to make it their mission to educate and serve this audience and their families for the good of children as well as museums while also considering what their institutions can do to make a lasting impact on children and their families

Museums without Borders Robert R. Janes, 2015-12-14 Drawing together nearly 40 years of experience Museums without Borders presents the key works of one of the most respected practitioners and scholars in the field Through these selected writings Robert R Janes demonstrates that museums have a broader role to play in society than is conventionally assumed He approaches the fundamental questions of why museums exist and what they mean in terms of identity community and the future of civil life This book consists of four Parts Indigenous Peoples Managing Change Social Responsibility and Activism and Ethics The Parts are ordered chronologically and each begins with an introduction and an overview of the ensuing articles which situates the papers in their historical and cultural contexts Using an interdisciplinary approach that combines anthropology ethnography museum studies and management theory Janes both questions and supports mainstream museum practice in a constructive and self reflective manner offering readers alternative viewpoints on important issues Considering concepts not generally recognized in museum practice such as the Roman leadership model of primus inter pares and the Buddhist concept of mindfulness Janes argues that the global museum community must examine how they can meet the needs of the planet and its inhabitants Museums without Borders charts the evolving role of the contemporary museum in the face of environmental societal and ethical challenges and explores issues that have and will continue to shape the museum sector for decades to come This book demonstrates that it is both reasonable and essential to expand the purpose of museums at this point in history not only because of their unique characteristics and value to society but also because of Janes respect and admiration for their rich legacy It is time that museums assist in the creation of a new caring and more conscious future for themselves and their communities This can only be done through authentic engagement with contemporary issues and aspirations
