Selections From The Prison Notebooks:

Selections from the Prison Notebooks of Antonio Gramsci Antonio Gramsci, 1971 In the autumn of 1926 on the pretext of an alleged attempt on his life Mussolini decided to make an end of even the semblance of bourgeois democracy that still survived All remaining opposition organisations and their publications were banned and a new massive series of arrests was launched throughout the country Among those arrested was Antonio Gramsci Gramsci was a member of parliament but the regime was no longer interested in niceties about parliamentary immunity He had also since August 1924 been the general secretary of the Communist Party though of course under such political conditions the identity of party officials was kept secret He was 35 years old At his trial in 1928 the official prosecutor ended his peroration with the famous demand to the judge We must stop this brain working for twenty years But although Gramsci was to be dead long before those twenty years were up released his health broken only in time to die under guard in a clinic rather than in prison yet for as long as his physique held out his jailers did not succeed in stopping his brain from working The product of those years of slow death in prison were the 2 848 pages of handwritten notes which he left to be smuggled out of the clinic and out of Italy after his death and of which this volume is a selection Pages xvii xviii of Introduction Prison Notebooks Antonio Gramsci, 2011 Volume one of the notebooks written by Italian communist Antonio Gramsci during his time in prison

Selections from the Prison Notebooks of Antonio Gramsci Antonio Gramsci, 1978 Antonio Gramsci Antonio Gramsci, 1995 Antonio Gramsci's Prison Notebooks written between 1929 and 1935 are the work of one of the outstanding and most original thinkers in Western Europe Their influence has grown continually since their first publication in Italian soon after the Second World War With meticulous scholarship Derek Boothman has made available a new and invaluable selection of Gramsci's work marking the first major translation into English from Gramsci's Prison Notebooks for nearly a decade This volume brings together Gramsci's writings on religion education science philosophy and economic theory The theme that links these writings is the investigation of ideology at its different levels and the structures that embody and reproduce it Concepts such as subalternity and corporate consciousness hegemony and the building of a counter hegemony thus recur throughout the book Further Selections from the Prison Notebooks is an important addition to the corpus of work available to English speaking scholars of Gramsci It will be useful to a wide audience of both scholars and public intellectuals including historians philosophers political scientists literary theorists and critics Selections from the Prison Notebooks Antonio Gramsci, 2018-03-30 The Prison Notebooks were a series of essays written by the Italian neo Marxist Antonio Gramsci Gramsci was imprisoned by the Italian Fascist regime in 1926 and the notebooks were written between 1929 and 1935 when Gramsci was released from prison on grounds of ill health He died in April 1937 Gramsci wrote more than 30 notebooks and 3 000 pages of history and analysis during his imprisonment Although written unsystematically the Prison Notebooks are considered a highly original contribution to 20th century political theory Selections from the Prison
