Winkle, Melissa Y Winkle Otr/L, 2013-11-21 Professional Applications of Animal Assisted Interventions Eva s Favorites is a collection of animal assisted intervention activities used in occupational therapy with Eva Many of these activities were previously published in Dogwood Doga Blue Dog Book or Gray Dog Book This collection was pulled together to celebrate Eva s life and her legacy While it is a tribute to her it is filled with animal assisted therapy and animal assisted education activities that catered to Eva whose abilities outweighed her diagnoses mitochondrial metabolism disorder quadriplegic cerebral palsy seizures closed dislocations of the hip cortical visual impairment strabismus spasticity feeding tubes and communication disorder Eva appeared to have many challenges but this book illustrates a glimpse into her occupational therapy sessions which were based on the human animal bond the key motivating factor in her sessions which resulted in measurable functional progress and quality of life This book contains activities that are useful for just about anyone in the interdisciplinary team who works with a person with similar abilities Readers are guided through activities step by step to identify therapeutic value supplies needed precautions and modifications to make activities more or less difficult In addition words of wisdom from the dog s point of view are provided so that the dog receives prerequisite training and introductions to environments people and activities The baseline information on ethics standards of practice and screening people and dogs for participation is included This title Eva s Favorites and 100% of the proceeds have been gifted to the Little Mustard Seed Trust Fund so we celebrate Eva s life with a sample of letters from some of her students friends and family Professional Applications of Animal Assisted Interventions Melissa Y. Winkle, 2013-05-05 The domestication of dogs has led us across a very meaningful journey Around the world dogs are seen as confidants family members and a large part of our social network Over time dogs have been recognized for their natural healing ability to perform volunteer work within healthcare and human service environments In recent times the human animal bond is recognized as a legitimate intervention within traditional and non traditional healthcare social sciences and education While our canine colleagues fulfill equally important volunteer and professional roles within each realm the expectations and skill sets for both human and hound are very different The series of books titled Professional Applications of Animal Assisted Interventions is meant to initiate a learning experience for those who include dogs in healthcare human services and education The Gray Dog Collection includes introductory and intermediate content such as discussions about screening people for participation screening dogs for the job intervention goals modification of activities precautions and professional responsibilities Written by an occupational therapist that also trains dogs the Gray Dog Collection is a fully illustrated book that describes nearly 50 new activities for participants of all ages and abilities Readers are taken through activities step by step to identify the therapeutic value supplies needed precautions modification ideas and dog welfare well being and training Like other books in the series The Gray Dog Collection offers practitioners and educator s valuable considerations from the canine perspective and makes recommendations for prerequisite training skill sets prior to joining in the activity Activities from over a decade of workshop contents and clinical application are included Therapists veterinarians educators dogs with intermediate skills and participants of all ages and abilities have evaluated the activities and found them to be fun engaging safe and purposeful

Animals in Social Work T. Ryan,2014-10-09 This collection of essays articulates theoretical and philosophical arguments and advances practical applications as to why animals ought to matter to social work in and of themselves It serves as a persuasive corrective to the current invisibility of animals in contemporary social work practice and thought

Professional Applications of Animal Assisted Interventions Melissa Y. Winkle,2013-08-29 Discusses screening people for participation screening dogs for the job intervention goals precautions and professional responsibilities Includes ideas for all ages and abilities and is useful for many professions within the interdisciplinary team Professional Applications of Animal Assisted Interventions Melissa Y. Winkle,2013-07-24 The human animal bond has therapeutic value regardless of the nature of the interaction Recently the work has begun to diverge into two distinct directions First many organizations continue to support volunteer visiting teams in a variety of community settings however a secondary breed of programs are emerging as more healthcare social service and educational practitioners carry the responsibility to ensure professional level standards of practice that blend seamlessly with each disciplines practice framework The patient client and student goals are formal and practiced in a discipline specific modality Dogwood Doga is not meant to be a cookie cutter book for activities rather it is meant to educate professionals about how to think about intervention or educational plans activity and biomechanical analysis modifications and safety for human and dog This book caters to those who use dogs in discipline specific sessions DOGWOOD DOGA is the first book in a series that offers an occupational therapists perspective on having a canine co therapist or co educator work with clients patients or students to reach functional goals including health maintenance neuromusculoskeletal and motor skills sensory and cognitive functions communication and interaction skills and more The book includes pictured demonstrations instructions activity analysis and modification ideas Each activity in DOGWOOD DOGA also offers information about incorporating the dog and intermediate dog training requirements It is recommended that users have experience with biomechanics yoga and have dogs with solid obedience and interaction skills
