Details of Modern Architecture Edward R. Ford, 1990 Covering the period 1890-1932 this book focuses on various recognised masters explaining the detailing and construction techniques used in their buildings New Forms, 2009

New Forms Philip Jodidio, 2001 The decade since the mid 1980s has seen an unparalleled surge in architectural creativity. Completely new design possibilities have been opened up by technological innovations such as computer aided design and at the same time there has been a growing cross fertilization between architecture and art. The face of today's architecture is shaped by masters such as Frank O Gehry, Zaha Hadid, Rem Koolhaas and Tadao Ando to name but a few. Whether in Japan, the USA or Europe everywhere the search is on for new forms and the impressive results of that quest are presented to the reader. Book jacket

Future Details of Architecture Mark Garcia, 2014-07-16 Despite the exaggerated news of the untimely death of the detail by Greg Lynn the architectural detail is now more lifelike and active than ever before. In this era of digital design and production technologies new materials, parametrics, building information modeling (BIM), augmented realities and then nano bio information computation consilience the detail is now an increasingly vital force in architecture. Though such digitally designed and produced details are diminishing in size to the molecular and nano levels they are increasingly becoming more complex, multi functional, high performance and self replicating. Far from being a non essential and final finish this new type of highly evolved high tech detail is rapidly becoming the indispensable and critical core, the sometimes iconic DNA of an innovative new species of built environmental form that is spawning in scale and prominence across product, interior, urban and landscape design. This issue of AD re-examines the history, theories and design of the world's most significant spatial details and explores their innovative potentials and possibilities for the future of architecture. Contributors include Rachel Armstrong, Nic Clear, Edward Ford, Dennis Sheldon, Skylar Tibbitts. Featured architects: Ben van Berkel, Hernan Diaz Alonso, Peter Macapia, Carlo Ratti, Philippe Rahm, Patrik Schumacher, Neil Spiller. History of the Modern Styles of Architecture : Being a Sequel to the Handbook of Architecture James Fergusson, 1862 Building the Modern Church Robert Proctor, 2016-05-23 Fifty years after the Second Vatican Council architectural historian Robert Proctor examines the transformations in British Roman Catholic church architecture that took place in the two decades surrounding this crucial event. Inspired by new thinking in theology and changing practices of worship and by a growing acceptance of modern art and architecture architects designed radical new forms of church building in a campaign of new buildings for new urban contexts. A focussed study of mid twentieth century church architecture Building the Modern Church considers how architects and clergy constructed the image and reality of the Church as an institution through its buildings.

The author examines changing conceptions of tradition and modernity and the development of a modern church architecture that drew from the ideas of the liturgical movement The role of Catholic clergy as patrons of modern architecture and art and the changing attitudes of the Church and its architects to modernity are examined explaining how different strands of post war architecture were adopted in the field of ecclesiastical buildings The church building s social role in defining communities through rituals and symbols is also considered together with the relationships between churches and modernist urban planning in new towns and suburbs Case studies analysed in detail include significant buildings and architects that have remained little known until now Based on meticulous historical research in primary sources theoretically informed fully referenced and thoroughly illustrated this book will be of interest to anyone concerned with the church architecture art and theology of this period

History of the Modern Styles of Architecture Being a Sequel to the Handbook of Architecture by James Fergusson James Fergusson, 1862

Design in Motion Laura A. Frahm, 2022-07-19 The first comprehensive history in English of film at the Bauhaus exploring practices that experimented with film as an adaptable elastic polymedium With Design in Motion Laura Frahm proposes an alternate history of the Bauhaus one in which visual media and film in particular are crucial to the Bauhaus s visionary pursuit of integrating art and technology In the first comprehensive examination in English of film at the Bauhaus Frahm shows that experimentation with film spanned a range of Bauhaus practices from textiles and typography to stage and exhibition design Indeed Bauhausler deployed film as an adaptable elastic polymedium malleable in shape and form unfolding and refracting into multiple material aesthetic and philosophical directions Frahm shows how the encounter with film imbued the Bauhaus of the 1920s and early 1930s with a flexible notion of design infusing painting with temporal concepts sculptures with moving forms photographs with sequential aesthetics architectural designs with a choreography of movement Frahm considers among other things student works that explored light and the transparent features of celluloid and cellophane weaving practices that incorporate cellophane experimental films social documentaries and critical reportage by Bauhaus women and the proliferation of film strips in posters book covers and other typographic work Viewing the Bauhaus s engagement with film through a media theoretic lens Frahm shows how film became a medium for design in motion Movement and process rather than stability and fixity become the defining characteristics of Bauhaus educational aesthetic and philosophical ethos
