Pornography, Ideology, and the Internet Zhang Mei, 2018-10-22 This book starts from the discussion of a pornography but does not end with pornography Rather it suggests that a pornographic star can be treated as a cultural product which obtains rich cultural meanings It contributes to the debate between the global homogenization paradigm and the creolization paradigm which predominates in multiple disciplines through a thorough examination of the entire process of the cross cultural migration of Aoi Sola a Japanese adult video AV actress who has achieved amazing popularity in mainland China since 2010 Through fifteen month participant observation inside the two Chinese agencies of Sola this study reveals that the transformative intermediaries play a significant role in the transformation of the cultural product in the Chinese context even though their operations are usually invisible to outsiders The findings challenge the conventional scholarly assumption that foreign products produced by global producers are consumed directly by local consumers or that the significance of these intermediaries can be ignored This study further extends the participant observation inside the realistic field to the virtual space of media in different countries which can be called the second field It demonstrates that multiple local groups including intermediaries Chinese commercial news portals Party media and Chinese Internet users respond to the dominant ideologies in Chinese society by reinterpreting Sola in different even contradictory ways Thus this research refutes the presumption that a local society is a coherent monolith in the acceptance of foreign cultural products The book also deepens the reader's understanding of Chinese Internet usage
