Investment Charles A.S. Hall, 2016-11-29 This authoritative but highly accessible book presents the reader with a powerful framework for understanding the critical role of the energy return on investment EROI in the survival and well being of individuals ecosystems businesses economies and nations Growth and development are fundamental and ubiquitous processes at all scales from individuals to food crops to national economies While we are all familiar with the concepts of economic growth and living standards as measured by gross domestic product GDP we often take for granted the energy use that underpins GDP and our expectations for year on year growth In this book you will learn how these measures of progress are completely dependent on the balance that can be achieved between energy costs inputs and gains Nothing is made or moved without an energy surplus and it is the EROI of available energy sources more than any other single factor that determines the shape of civilization Nearly all politics and economics assume that policy and market forces are the levers upon which future outcomes will hinge However this book presents many examples of historical and current events that can be explained much more clearly from an energetic perspective In addition a future scenario is developed that gives a central place to EROI in assessing the potential of governmental and private initiatives to substitute so called renewable energy sources for diminishing stocks of fossil fuels When cheap fossil fuels are no longer available in the abundance needed to mask economic problems and power business as usual it will be EROI more than the plethora of green technologies that creates the boundary conditions for a sustainable future Beyond Return on Investment Pam W. Return on Investment in Meetings & Events M. Theresa Breining, Jack J. Phillips, Patricia Pulliam Phillips, 2008-01-14 The Phillips ROI Methodology™ utilizes five levels of evaluation which are essential in determining the return on investment At Level 1 Reaction and Planned Action attendee and stakeholder satisfaction from the meeting can be measured Almost all organizations evaluate at Level 1 usually with a generic end of meeting questionnaire While this level of evaluation is important as a stakeholder satisfaction measure a favorable reaction does not ensure that attendees have acquired new skills knowledge opinions or attitudes from the meeting At Level 2 Learning measurements focus on what participants learned during the meeting using tests skill practices role plays simulations group evaluations and other assessment tools A learning check is helpful to ensure that attendees have absorbed the meeting material or messages and know how to use or apply it properly It is also important at this level to determine the quantity and quality of new professional contacts acquired and whether existing professional contacts were strengthened due to the meeting However a positive measure at this level is no guarantee that what was learned or whether the professional contacts acquired will be used on the job At Level 3 Job Applications a variety of follow up methods can be used to determine if attendees applied on the job what they learned or acquired at the meeting The frequency and use of skills are important measures at Level 3 While Level 3 evaluations are important to gauge the success of the meeting it still does not guarantee that there will be a positive business impact in the organization or for the attendee At Level 4 Business Results the measurement focuses on the actual business results achieved by meeting participants as they successfully apply the meeting material or messages Typical Level 4 measures include output sales quality costs time and customer satisfaction Although the meeting may produce a measurable business impact there is still a concern that the meeting may cost too much At Level 5 Return on Investment this ultimate level of measurement compares the monetary benefits from the meeting with the fully loaded meeting costs as expressed in the ROI formula All levels of evaluation must be conducted in order to determine the

ROI of a meeting or event The data collected should show a chain of impact occurring through the levels as the skills and knowledge learned Level 2 are applied on the job Level 3 to produce business results Level 4 Return on Investment

Crash Course IntroBooks,2018-02-22 Since the dawn of time we have been interested in knowing the returns we can get when we invest time or money in anything It didn't always have a formula to calculate or measure the return but there was the interest of knowing what a person will get out of the investment he makes Whether it is profit or loss in terms of money or returns in kind knowing that return can be expected makes a venture desirable The word returns has a very special place in business Every business venture begins by identifying how the venture will enable the business owner to earn returns from the investment they make Returns on Investment ROI is the result of our need to find out what we could earn through an opportunity or a prospect It compares the costs involved with the benefits that stem through the opportunity It helps the person find out if they will be able to earn more than the costs that are involved which eventually results in a profit Everyone is interested in knowing if they will be able to earn more than what they invest or spend on a venture Understanding
