Class is a particularly troublesome issue in the United States and other rich capitalist societies In this feminist analysis of class noted sociologist Joan Acker examines and assesses feminist attempts to include white women and people of color in discussions of class She argues that class processes are shaped through gender race and other forms of domination and inequality Class Questions Feminist Answers outlines a theory of class as a set of gendered and racialized processes in which people have unequal control over and access to the necessities of life processes including production distribution and paid and unpaid labor Historically gender and race based inequalities were integral to capitalism and they are still fundamental aspects of the class system Acker argues that capitalist organizations create gendered and racialized class inequalities and outlines a conceptual scheme for analyzing inequality regimes in organizations Finally the book examines contemporary changes in work and employment and in economic political processes including current events like deregulation downsizing and off shoring that increase inequalities and alter racialized and gendered class relations This book will appeal to readers interested in a feminist discussion of class as a racialized and gendered process intimately tied to the capitalist economic system

Dis/organization as Communication Consuelo Vásquez, Timothy Kuhn, 2019-03-13 This book accounts for the transformation of organizations in a post bureaucratic era by bringing a communicational lens to the ontological discussion on organization disorganization offering a conceptual and methodological toolbox for studying disorganization as communication Increasingly scholars acknowledge that communication is constitutive of organization because meaning is always indeterminate communication also and simultaneously generates disorganization The book synthesizes the major theoretical trends and empirical studies in communication that engage with dis organization Drawing on dialectics relational ontologies critical theory systems theory and affect thinking the first part of the book offers communicational explanations of how dis organization unfolds The second part of the book grounds this theoretical reflection providing empirical studies that mobilize diverse methodological and analytical frameworks e g ethnography situational interactional and genre analysis for studying the practices of dis organization Overall the book exposes organizations and organizing processes as significantly messier irrational or a rational and paradoxical than scholars of organization typically think It also offers readers the conceptual and methodological tools to understand these complex processes as communication This book will be essential reading for scholars in organizational communication or management and organization studies together with senior undergraduate and graduate students studying organizational communication organizational discourse discourse analysis including rhetoric semiotics pragmatism narratology and courses in management studies It will also be richly rewarding for organizational consultants managers and executives

The Work of Communication Timothy Kuhn,Karen L Ashcraft,Francois Cooren,2017-07-06 The Work of Communication Relational Perspectives on Working and Organizing in Contemporary Capitalism revolves around a two part question What have work and organization become under contemporary capitalism and how should organization studies approach them Changes in the texture of capitalism heralded by social and organizational theorists alike increasingly focus attention on communication as both vital to the conduct of work and as imperative to organizational performance Yet most accounts of communication in organization studies fail to understand an alternate sense of the work of communication in the constitution of organizations work practices and economies This book responds to that lack by portraying communicative practices as opposed to individuals interests technologies structures organizations or institutions as the focal units of analysis in studies of the social and organizational problems occasioned by contemporary capitalism Rather than suggesting that there exists a canonically correct route communicative analyses must follow The Work of Communication Relational Perspectives on Working and Organizing in Contemporary Capitalism explores the value of transcending longstanding divides between symbolic and material factors in studies of working and organizing The recognition of dramatic shifts in technological economic and political forces along with deep interconnections among the myriad of factors shaping working and organizing sows doubts about whether organization studies is up to the vital task of addressing the social problems capitalism now creates Kuhn Ashcraft and Cooren argue that novel insights into those social problems are possible if we tell different stories about working and organizing To aid authors of those stories they develop a set of conceptual resources that they capture under the mantle of communicative relationality These resources allow analysts to profit from burgeoning interest in notions such as sociomateriality posthumanism performativity and affect It goes on to illustrate the benefits that investigations of work and organization can realize from communicative relationality by presenting case studies that analyze a the becoming of an idea from its inception to solidification b the emergence of what is taken to be the the product in high tech startup entrepreneurship and c the branding of work in this case academic writing and commercial aviation through affective economies Taken together the book portrays the work of communication as simultaneously about how work in the new economy revolves around communicative practice and about how communication serves as a mode of explanation with the potential to cultivate novel stories about working and organizing Aimed at academics researchers and policy makers this book s goal is to make tangible the contributions of communication for thinking about contemporary social and organizational problems
