Rhetorical Action In Ancient Athens Persuasive Artistry From Solon Demosthenes:

Rhetorical Action in Ancient Athens James Fredal, 2006 Twenty eight illustrations are included Jacket The Oxford Handbook of Demosthenes Gunther Martin, 2019 As a speechwriter orator and politician Demosthenes captured embodied and shaped his time This Handbook explores the many facets of his life work and time giving particular weight to his social and historical context and thereby illustrating the interplay and mutual influence between his rhetoric and the environment from which it emerged The Rhetoric of the Past in Demosthenes and Aeschines Guy Westwood, 2020-04-09 In democratic Athens mass citizen audiences whether in the lawcourts or in the political Assembly and Council or when gathered for formal civic occasions frequently heard politicians and litigants discussing the city's past and manipulating it for persuasive ends The Rhetoric of the Past in Demosthenes and Aeschines explores how these dynamics worked in practice taking two prominent mid fourth century politicians and bitter adversaries as focal points While most recent scholarly treatments of how the Athenians recalled their past concentrate on collective processes this work looks instead at the rhetorical strategies devised by individual orators examining what it meant for Demosthenes or Aeschines to present particular historical examples arguments and illustrations in particular contexts It argues that discussing the Athenian past and therefore discussing a core aspect of Athenian identity itself offered Demosthenes and Aeschines among others an effective and versatile means both of building and highlighting their own credibility authority and commitment to the democracy and its values and of competing with their rivals whose own versions and handling of the past they could challenge and undermine as a symbolic attack on those rivals wider competence Recourse to versions of the past also offered orators a way of reflecting on a troubled contemporary geopolitical landscape in which Athens first confronted the enterprising Philip II of Macedon and then coped with Macedonian hegemony The work covers the full range of Demosthenes and Aeschines surviving public speeches and the extended opening chapter includes synoptic surveys of key individual topics which feed into the main discussion The Rhetoric of Seeing in Attic Forensic Oratory Peter A. O'Connell, 2017-03-01 In ancient Athenian courts of law litigants presented their cases before juries of several hundred citizens Their speeches effectively constituted performances that used the speakers appearances gestures tones of voice and emotional appeals as much as their words to persuade the jury Today all that remains of Attic forensic speeches from the fifth and fourth centuries BCE are written texts but as Peter A O Connell convincingly demonstrates in this innovative book a careful study of the speeches rhetoric of seeing can bring their performative aspect to life Offering new interpretations of a wide range of Athenian forensic speeches including detailed discussions of Demosthenes On the False Embassy Aeschines Against Ktesiphon and Lysias Against Andocides O Connell shows how litigants turned the jurors scrutiny to their advantage by manipulating their sense of sight He analyzes how the litigants words work together with their movements and physical appearance how they exploit the Athenian preference for visual evidence through the language of seeing and showing and how they plant images in their jurors minds These findings which draw on ancient rhetorical theories about performance seeing and knowledge as well as modern legal discourse analysis deepen our understanding of Athenian notions of visibility They also uncover parallels among forensic medical sophistic and historiographic discourses that reflect a shared concern with how listeners come to know what they have not seen The SAGE Handbook of Rhetorical Studies Andrea A. Lunsford, Kirt H.

Wilson, Rosa A. Eberly, 2009 The SAGE Handbook of Rhetorical Studies surveys the latest advances in rhetorical scholarship synthesizing theories and practices across major areas of study in the field and pointing the way for future studies Edited by Andrea A Lunsford and Associate Editors Kirt H Wilson and Rosa A Eberly the Handbook aims to introduce a new generation of students to rhetorical study and provide a deeply informed and ready resource for scholars currently working in the field

The Dynamics of Rhetorical Performances in Late Antiquity Alberto J. Quiroga Puertas, 2018-10-09 This book argues that narrations of rhetorical performances in late antique literature can be interpreted as a reflection of the ongoing debates of the time Competition among cultural elites strategies of self presentation and the making of religious orthodoxy often took the shape of narrations of rhetorical performances in which comments on the display of oratorical skills also incorporated moral and ethical judgments about the performer Using texts from late antique authors in particular Themistius Synesius of Cyrene and Libanius of Antioch this book proposes that this type of narrative should be understood as a valuable way to decipher the cultural and religious landscape of the fourth century AD The volume pays particular attention to narrations of deficient rhetorical deliveries arguing that the accounts of flaws and mistakes in oratorical displays and rhetorical performances reveal how late antique literature echoed the concerns of the time Criticisms of deficient deliveries in different speaking occasions declamations public speeches oratorical agones school exercises sermons were often disguised as accusations of practising magic heresy or cultural apostasy A close reading of the sources shows that these oratorical deficiencies hid struggles over religious cultural and political issues Citizenship in Antiquity Jakub

Filonik, Christine Plastow, Rachel Zelnick-Abramovitz, 2023-06-30 Citizenship in Antiquity brings together scholars working on the multifaceted and changing dimensions of citizenship in the ancient Mediterranean from the second millennium BCE to the first millennium CE adopting a multidisciplinary and comparative perspective The chapters in this volume cover numerous periods and regions from the Ancient Near East through the Greek and Hellenistic worlds and pre Roman North Africa to the Roman Empire and its continuations and with excursions to modernity The contributors to this book adopt various contemporary theories demonstrating the manifold meanings and ways of defining the concept and practices of citizenship and belonging in ancient societies and in turn of non citizenship and non belonging Whether citizenship was defined by territorial belonging or blood descent by privileged or exclusive access to resources or participation in communal decision making or by a sense of group belonging such identifications were also open to discursive redefinitions and manipulation Citizenship and belonging as well as non citizenship and non belonging had many shades and degrees citizenship could be bought or faked or even removed By casting light on different areas of the Mediterranean over the course of antiquity the volume seeks to explore this multi layered notion of citizenship and contribute to an ongoing and relevant discourse Citizenship in Antiquity offers a wide ranging comprehensive collection suitable for students and scholars of citizenship politics and society in the ancient Mediterranean world as well as those working on citizenship throughout history interested in taking a comparative approach Chapters Chapters 47 and 48 of this book arefreely available as a downloadable Open Access PDF at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY NC ND 4.0 license
