Music Through The Eyes Of Faith:

Music Through the Eyes of Faith Harold Best, 1993-05-14 Christian musicians know of the obligation to make music as agents of God's grace. They make music graciously whatever its kind or style as ambassadors of Christ showing love, humility, servanthood, meekness, victory, and good example. Music is freely made by faith as an act of worship in direct response to the overflowing grace of God in Christ Jesus. Co-sponsored by the Christian College Coalition, this thought-provoking study of music as worship leads both students and experienced musicians to a better understanding of the connections between music making and Christian faith. Christian music makers have to risk new ways of praising God. Their faith must convince them that however strange a new offering may be, it cannot out-reach, out-imagine, or overwhelm God. God remains God, ready to swoop down in the most wonderful way amidst all of the flurry and mystery of newness and repetition to touch souls and hearts, all because faith has been exercised and Christ's ways have been imitated. Meanwhile, a thousand tongues will never be enough. Best relates musical practice to a larger theology of creation and creativity and explores new concepts of musical quality and excellence, musical unity, and the incorporation of music from other cultures into today's music. The Outrageous Idea of Christian Scholarship George M. Marsden, 1997 In this book, Marsden argues forcefully that mainstream American higher education needs to be more open to explicit expressions of faith and to accept what faith means in an intellectual context. Shaping a Christian Worldview David S. Dockery, Gregory Alan Thornbury, 2002-09-01 Shaping a Christian Worldview presents a collection of essays that address the key issues facing the future of Christian higher education. Restoring the Vocation of a Christian College Brad Pardue, Andrew T. Bolger, 2022-05-19 Restoring the Vocation of a Christian College examines the vocation of a Christian institution of higher learning to faithfully educate students and how individual Christian teachers and scholars can participate in this process, no matter their discipline. It surveys and engages developments over the last few decades in Christian worldview studies, Christian pedagogy, character formation, and vocational reflection. Through individual essays by college administrators, cocurricular staff, and faculty from a wide range of disciplines, it provides both thoughtful reflection and concrete application of these often abstract concepts to specific institutional settings and the actual classroom experience. Faith Reads David Rainey, 2008-07-30 At last, a resource for librarians who wish to build or develop their nonfiction collection and use it to better serve the needs of adult Christian readers. Covering the three major branches of Christianity—Roman Catholic, Protestant, and Orthodox—the author organizes more than 600 titles into subject categories ranging from biography, the arts, and education to theology, devotion, and spiritual warfare. Award-winning classics are noted. Introductory narrative frames the literature and helps librarians better understand Christian literature and learn how to establish selection criteria for building a Christian nonfiction collection. Christian Scholar's Review, 1995 Leading the Way Through Joshua Michael Youssef, 2013-03-01 The book of Joshua contains some of the most compelling and relevant truths for our lives today. It is the story of trembling heroes.
