Public Private Partnership Contracts Mohamed Ismail, 2020-03-18 This book provides a comprehensive overview of the law surrounding PPPs in the Middle East and North African region The significance of liberalised and integrated Public Private Partnership

Contracts as an essential component of the world legal and policy order is well documented. The regulation of PPPs is justified economically to allow for competition in the relevant public service and to achieve price transparency thus resulting in significant savings for the public sector. In parallel to the economic justifications, legal imperatives have also called for the regulation of PPPs in order to allow free movement of goods and services and to prohibit discrimination on grounds of nationality. The need for competitiveness and transparency in delivering public services through PPPs is considered a safeguard to achieve international standards in delivering public utility services. First, it assesses the compatibility of the current PPPs legislation and regulation in the MENA region with the international standards of legislation and regulation prevalent in many other countries including the UK, France, and Brazil. Secondly, it compares the practices in the MENA region with those of international bodies such as the OECD and World Bank. Comparisons are then made between the MENA countries and those in Europe and Asia with regard to the influence of culture, policy, and legal globalization. The book will be of interest to scholars and students in the field of international contract law, public law, and state contracts, finance law, and private law.

Business America, 1979. Includes articles on international business opportunities.

Global Contract Law in the Middle East and North Africa Mohamed Ismail, 2024-08-01. This book comprehensively covers the interplay between cultural and legal globalization and the impact this has on contract law with a particular focus on state contracts within the MENA region. The book discusses the roles assumed by Supreme Courts in Egypt and MENA countries in creating unified principles of international contract law in states contracts which are consistent with international commercial contracts principles. It makes a powerful argument for further harmonization of contract law in the area and how this can be achieved. The book forms a case study of how international harmonization can be achieved through a number of routes such as codification, digitalization of processes and contracts, private public arbitration, and further use of international instruments. It also considers the implications of comparative European law, convention law, and other legal domains, particularly international standards on contract law in the MENA region. The book suggests how international legal standards can be integrated within contract law and how a harmonious contract law framework can thus be achieved. Through analyzing ICSID case law, the book argues that unification of contract law principles in the MENA region is a considerable step towards achieving legitimate expectations of foreign investors. It argues further that global contract law is underway. The book will be of interest to students and scholars in the field of international contract law, public law, and international law in Egypt and MENA countries.
